

REVERSE FOR SLAV DRIVE
NEAR DVINSK

RUSSIAN LINE FORCED TO GIVE WAY AT BARANOVICH WHERE TEUTONS FIGHT DES-PERATELY.

RUSS THREATEN KOVEL

Russian Offensive Has Approached Within Thirty Miles of Important City in This Sector.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, July 8.—While the entente allies on the western front have been temporarily handicapped by heavy rains in further pushing of their offensive, the Russians under General Brusiloff are continuing to drive back
the Teutonic line in the east.

Slavs Approach Kovel.
Further notable progress has been made by the Russians in Volhynia where their movements upon the important railroad center of Kovel are gaining in force. Today's Petrograd announcement shows them at Gruzia-tym, thirty miles southwest of Kovel.
Further north their lines have been pushed forward to Doizyca, a station on the Kovel Sarny railway, the capture of which by the Russians was reported yesterday. In Galicia, where General Count Von Bethmar, recently was compelled by Russian pressure, to fall back, a line near Koropitz, a dozen miles west of the Sarny, a new advance of the Russians is reported.

In the region between Riga and Volhynia the Germans are offering more formidable resistance to the new Russian offensive and some recession of the Russian line from the Lake Narocz region, south of Dvinsk, is admitted. The battle near Baranovich is still raging with little change in position.

Germans Inflict Loss.
Berlin, July 8.—Heavy attacks by the Russians against the German front in the Baranovich region have inflicted a loss of thousands in dead to the attacking forces, according to today's official war office announcement. The Russian assault on the Baranovich region, also was fruitless, and in Volhynia the Germans gained advances south of Lutsk.

Slavs Keep Up Advance.
Petrograd, via London, July 8.—The Russian advance in the Czartorysk region, in which the attacking German troops were thrown back yesterday,
has been pushed further, the war office announced. The capture of the villages of Dolzyca and Gruzia, and the number of German and Austrian prisoners continue to increase. The entente allies continue to develop their successes in the region east of the Czartorysk sector on the river Svov. Following the capture of the village of Grady, and after a hot battle, the Russian forces, under the command of General Brusiloff, have taken the village of Grady, and the village of Mameditch, and the village of Gruzia.
The number of German and Austrian prisoners continues to increase.

"On the front south of the Stochod river the enemy is maintaining a very violent fire in numerous sectors. North of the river, under cover of artillery fire, the enemy attempted to take the offensive in the region of Scheikin and Dubova, but was repulsed. The artillery fire continues."

PARALYSIS CLAIMS
MANY IN NEW YORK

Epidemic of Infantile Paralysis in New York City Kills Eighteen Children.

New York, July 8.—Although this was the hottest day since the beginning of the epidemic of infantile paralysis two weeks ago, there were few fatalities. During the twenty hours preceding 10 o'clock today
the disease has killed eighteen children in the greater city.

Cases in Paterson, N. J.
Paterson, N. J., July 8.—Two children were taken to the isolation hospital today suffering from infantile paralysis. Health officials placed a number of other persons under observation.

Summary of Cases.
Chicago, July 8.—Reports of infantile paralysis from various cities follow:

New York, twenty-five new cases, seven deaths. Chicago, one new case. Newark, N. J., one new case.
Selling eight this week and two suspected cases. Lawrence, Mass., one new case. Albany, N. Y., one new case. One at Hudson, one at Arden, one at New York, one at Blue Island, Ill., two new cases.
Boston, Mass., no cases but six reported in state. Newport, R. I., three cases.

To Experiment on Monkeys.
Washington, July 8.—Importation from the Philippines of monkeys wanted by the New York health authorities for experiment in their fight against infantile paralysis, is permitted by orders signed today by secretary Houston of the department of agriculture. The secretary announced that the quarantine against warm blooded animals of the Pacific islands is so as to permit monkeys to be procured for scientific purposes, it is understood.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE ELECT CHICAGO MAN AS PRESIDENT OF UNION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, July 8.—With the re-election of Dr. James A. White of Chicago as general secretary, the business session of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, in twenty-fifth annual convention here, closed today.
At the general public subscription, the finance committee announced that the organization lacked $2,000 for greatest efficiency of the union.
The 61st convention of the union will be held in Detroit, July 8, and the board of managers announced that Philadelphia would be the convention city in 1918.

CANAL DEFENSE
SAID TO REQUIRE MUCH WIDER ZONE

Gen. Clarence R. Edwards.

Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, in command of the American forces on the Panama canal zone, has made a report to congress in which he recommends that the United States purchase additional land on both sides of the canal zone until American territory extends fifteen miles in each direction from the canal.

FRANCE ABANDONS
LONDON AGREEMENT
ON MARITIME LAW

Decree Rejecting Interpretation of Declaration of London Upholds British Blockade Policy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, July 8.—The French government, following the example of Great Britain, has abandoned the declaration of London as an interpretation of maritime international law. A decree to that effect appears in this morning's official journal.

Statement of British.
London, July 8.—In accordance with the recent decision of the British government to discontinue the partial enforcement of the Declaration of London,
which has reference to the conduct of naval warfare, an order in council was published in the London Gazette under which all orders made under the Declaration of London since the beginning of the war are withdrawn. The new order declares it is the intention of Great Britain, and her allies to exercise their belligerent right at sea in strict accordance to law of nations.

Russian-Japan Treaty.
Petrograd, via London, July 8.—In an interview in the Bourse Gazette
on the Russo-Japanese agreement, Serguei Sazonov, the minister of foreign affairs, says:

"The present war opened up a series of problems for Russia, the solution of which necessitates our confining our attention to the west for many years. Relying on our solidarity with Japan as regards far eastern questions, we can devote all our energies to the solution of these problems with assurance no power will take unfair advantage of China to carry out its ambitious plan, as was the case with other countries bordering on Russia in the east."

STATE GUARD
TRAINS PASS THROUGH CITY

FIRST BATTALION COMPOSED OF COMPANIES L, H, AND G AR-RIVE AT THREE THIRTY.

CROWDS BID FAREWELL

Hundreds of Janesville, Beloit and Monroe Residents Gather to Greet Departing Soldier Boys.

Troop trains carrying the first regiment, Wisconsin National Guards, enroute from Camp Douglas to San Antonio, Tex., where they will be employed in patrol service along the Mexican border, passed through Janesville late this afternoon, on the Northwestern line. The routing was to Chicago, via Madison, Janesville and Clinton Junction.

Hundreds of persons gathered at the Northwestern station at South Janesville where the trains were scheduled to stop to change trains and to receive supplies of water and ice. Automobile parties arrived from Beloit and Monroe, bringing relatives and friends of the men in Companies L and H which were on the first train, scheduled to arrive at 3:30. Company G of Madison was on the first train, and it was thought probable that Brigadier General L. G. Richardson, formerly of Janesville would also be a passenger on this section.

Early arrivals received by the railroad officials in this city went to the effect that the first train would arrive at three o'clock and the other two trains at intervals of thirty minutes.
The schedule was revised, however,
so that the first train arrived at 3:30
or shortly after the second train at 4:30.

There were several Janesville young men among the soldiers bound for the border. They included Dr. Philip B.
Whitehead, Fred Flaherty, Frank Kerzman and Elmer Hutton, all of Company L, Beloit; Rupert Gas and Russell Agnew, both of Company G, Madison.

Camp Douglas, July 8.—The first section of the first regiment of Wisconsin national guards, enroute for the Texas border, this forenoon, accompanied by Brigadier General Lorraine G. Richardson, officers and attaches of the brigade headquarters.
The section included part of the supply company and G, L and H companies. Two other sections of the first regiment will leave two hours apart, going by way of Madison via the Chicago and Northwestern railway, transferring to the Santa Fe at Chicago.

Washington, July 8.—Army departmental commanders have been instructed to muster into federal service officers and men enlisted men of the states which have adopted standard medical examination prescribed for the regular army, without further medical examination previous to the muster. After the muster, however, there will be a federal examination and those found physically unfit for military service will be discharged immediately.

Discharge Government Employees.
Chicago, July 8.—Major General
Barry, commander of the central department of the United States army, today received orders from Secretary of War Baker authorizing the discharge from service of members of the national guard who are officers or employees of the government department and government contractors, the loss of whose service would seriously hamper the bureau of government departments.

DEFENSE ATTORNEY
RILED AT ANSWERS
OF POISON EXPERT

Toxicologist Called by State in Rebuttal Answers Ire of Orpet's Counsel.—More Testimony on Cyanide.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Waukegan, July 8.—The Orpet jury listened today to further questions and answers pertaining to the subject of cyanide of potassium, the polson with which Will H. Orpet, college student, is charged by the state with having murdered Marian Lambert.
The witness was Dr. Ralph V. Webster, a toxicologist, called in rebuttal
by the state, and whose cross examination remained unfinished last night.
Attorney Ralph Potter asked the questions which were designed to shake the testimony given by the witness three weeks ago.

"You testified in direct examination that Marian Lambert died of liquid cyanide of potassium. Have you changed your opinion since?" asked Mr. Potter.

"I have not," answered Dr. Webster.
Dr. Webster insisted on explaining in answers or adding modification to the exasperation of Mr. Potter; also the toxicologist prefaced nearly every answer with "according to my experience."

"I don't care about your experience, I want to know what you absolutely know," was the repeated admonition from Mr. Potter.

H. H. Kraft, Lake Forest druggist, and E. O. Orpet, father of the defendant, testified as to two cans of cyanide purchased by Mr. Orpet from Mr.
Kraft on December 30th.

Mr. Orpet and his son, the defendant, brought it home. It was securely wrapped. One can was opened two days after Marian's death by Mr. Or-pet, to show the contents to Alexander Allen, a member of the coroner's jury, who had never seen cyanide.
Other can, still sealed, was introduced in evidence today.

Fred I. Wemban, Lake Forest undertaker, who cared for Marian's body before it was buried, according to testimony, to notice the spot on Marian's cloak, was the next witness.

The insinuations of the defense, which have dropped out from time to time, that spots alleged to have been made by cyanide were placed there by someone interested in the prosecution, formed the reason for the undertaker's recall.

"Did you put those spots there?"
asked State's Attorney Dady.

"I did not," replied Mr. Wemban.
"Did you place cyanogen there, or anything else there, or see anybody else do so?"

The cross examination of perfunctory and brief.

WORK TRAIN BREAKS
THROUGH A TRESTLE

One Dead and Seven Hurt in Accident
Today at Cleveland, Ohio.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Cleveland, O., July 8.—One man was killed and seven were seriously injured, some of whom may die, when a work train on the Cleveland and Youngstown Railroad went through a trestle, while making a fill near east
Fifty-first Street in this city today.

LAST OF AVAILABLE
BIPLANES DISABLED

Twelve Aeroplanes Idle at Field Base
in Mexico Awaiting Propeller Blades.

Columbus, July 8.—The only available aeroplane at the field base of the Mexican punitive expedition in Mexico, was rendered unfit for service today when the propeller blade of the machine broke into splinters, while in the air.

The aviator it is said, brought the plane to ground without suffering an injury. Twelve biplanes belonging to aerial squadron are idle at base here, waiting for new field propellers, order-

VIGILANCE IS TENSE ALONG
THE BORDER

GEN. FUNSTON HOLDS TROOPS READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY IN EVENT OF NEW BOR-DER ATTACKS.

CHASE BANDIT RAIDERS

Carranza General Reported to Have Overtaken Villa Gang South of Jimenez and Is Ready to Give Battle.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
San Antonio, July 8.—For more than 200 miles eastward from El Paso, American troops were held in readiness toward to move to any point on the border that might be threatened by newly organized bandits in Chihuahua.

West of El Paso alert watch for developments south of the line was kept. Officers commanding at all border stations were prepared for news of advancing raiders. Early morning reports to General Funston added nothing, however, to the rumors of yesterday that Colonel Gaston, commanding American forces in the Big Bend district was authorized by General Funston to make such disposition of his troops as he deemed wise to prevent Mexican bandits from crossing the river. He has in the Presidio district, the sixth cavalry of his own regiment and the fourth Texas infantry.

Army officers were not inclined to believe the bandits would attempt any move toward the north.

Kill Four Mexicans.
El Paso, July 8.—Fourteen Mexicans are reported to have been killed in a battle with three Americans not far from Anapra, N. M., according to a report received here today.

Mexicans Chase Bandits.
El Paso, July 8.—Carranza forces are expected to give battle to Villistas who are being driven from the south of Jimenez, Chihuahua, according to a report received this morning by General Gonzales in Juarez from General Trevino, commanding
the army of the north.

There are said to be 1,200 cavalry
men under General Domingo Arrieta, supported by 800 infantry, had overtaken the bandits at Las Navas, south of Jimenez, early today. General Ar-rieta wired General Trevino that he intended to attack Calixto Contreras and his followers at Calixto.

Washington Awaits Word.
Washington, July 8.—Further report on the fight in which bandits overwhelmed a Carranza force near Cor-ralitos, southern Chihuahua, was looked for by the state department, and the state department, to which he promised to communicate the information.

Of great interest to officials
was the question of whether the outlaw band included Francisco Villa.
Sheriff's Posse Active.
Nogales, Ariz., July 8.—A sheriff's posse last night investigated the two horse bandits who were in the possession of Frank Ake, three miles east here, and reported the greater part of the animals had been turned loose, crossed the line and have been recovered.

The first installment of 108 motor trucks for army use, was scheduled to arrive today, adding to the effectiveness of the Mexican troops now mobilized at Camp W. H. Sage.

U. OF N. Y. STUDENTS ARE OFF FOR MEXICO

Prominent Students of New York University Volunteer to go to Mexican Border.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, July 8.—Francis B.
Sayre, son-in-law of President Wilson and George W. Perkins, Jr., son of the progressive party leader, are among forty University of New York men who have volunteered to go to Mexican border for the summer, as secretaries of army and navy department of the U. S. A. Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia and other universities and several colleges are represented among volunteers, it was announced today.

DATE IS ANNOUNCED
FOR EDITORS MEETING.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Sheboygan, July 8.—Announcement was made today of semi-annual meeting of Wisconsin City Editors association to be held at Madison July 22 and 23. The school of journalism University of Wisconsin will cooperate at the meeting.

PART OF WATER WORKS IN SHEBOYGAN DESTROYED.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Sheboygan, July 8.—The boiler house of Sheboygan waterworks plant was destroyed by fire this morning.
Through the efforts of crew who remained on duty while the fire department was fighting fire, and kept the pumps working at full speed, the flames were confined to boiler house,
the rest being saved.

ROCKEFELLER PLAYS GOLF
ON HIS 77TH BIRTHDAY.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Cleveland, July 8.—John D. Rockefeller, richest man in the world, celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday here today by playing golf over a nine hole course with friends. His birthday dinner in which his fellow golfers participated was served at noon. Mr. Rockefeller appeared in splendid spirits.

MEXICAN CRISIS BETTER SAYS SECRETARY LANSING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Watertown, N. Y., July 8.—Secretary of State Robert Lansing arrived today at his summer home at Henderson Harbor for a month's vacation.
When asked if the Mexican crisis was passed, Mr. Lansing said: "I don't know as to that. It looks better."

PHILIPP, RECOVERED,
BACK AT HIS DESK
AT CAPITOL FRIDAY

Governor Takes Up Reins Again—Health Improved and Again Ready for Big Proposition.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, Wis., July 7.—Friday has been considered an unlucky day by some folks, but you cannot make anyone in the state capitol believe it over the long disability of Governor Phillip. For on Friday Governor Philipp came back to his desk in the governor's office, well recovered from his recent illness, and ready once more to tackle the problems of state government in which he is so much interested.

Governor Phillip has been keeping track of affairs in the capitol during most of the time he was in the hospital, aside from the week following his operation. He admits that during that period he forgot about being governor and was busily engaged in fighting his serious illness. After that, however, he held daily conferences with the long disability and further his office, and gave his O. K. to transactions where it was necessary. The governor has a method in his work
as governor as he has had in his business affairs, and he keeps well informed.

Now that the governor is back in Madison and the danger which threatened him is over, it might be said that for many days he would be confined to his office, as well as to transactions in the capitol, as well as in other parts of the state, who were afraid he would not recover. It is a serious situation when the governor of a state is ill, and the newspapers took an optimistic attitude. They put their hopes into their stories which said the governor would recover. It was significant that many papers which have opposed the governor politically in the past and will do so in the future, joined with the governor's friends in a newspaper profession in hoping for his recovery. That fact has been appreciated by the governor.

Friday was a busy day in the governor's office because of the many visitors who came to see him. He was back, but did not want to tire himself with a personal call. To those who did see him personally the governor's appearance was a surprise.
He is looking well and fit for work.

The fact that the governor is here has been an added impetus to the political action convention which is to be held in Madison July 12. The attendance will be large, according to reports which are coming in from all over the state. The meeting will be held in the gymnasium, which will house a large crowd. Madison hotels are making arrangements to take care of the visitors, who are coming in such numbers that special trains will be run from several sections.

GULF STORM LOSSES
REACH A BIG TOTAL

Seven Persons Killed and Property Loss of $4,000,000, Latest Estimate of Destruction Wrought

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New Orleans, July 8.—At least seven persons have lost their lives and property has been damaged to the extent of more than $4,000,000 according to reports early today from the storm swept sections of Louisiana, the Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia suffered heavily.

Rains that assumed the proportions of deluges following the tropical hurricane in Alabama, caused serious flood conditions at Prattville and Birmingham, where creeks overflowed banks and invaded stores and factories.

The death list consists of one white man and six negroes. The former, a locomotive engineer, was killed with three negroes when a train ran instead of a washout at Bond, Miss.
Three negroes were drowned in the Birmingham district and two on the Alabama river, near Tuscaloosa, when a boat sank.

The Alabama, Coosa, Tallapoosa
and Warrior rivers, are reported rising rapidly and flood warnings have been issued.

The American schooner Mary T.
Danzler, the Norwegian schooner
Anezia and an unidentified two masted vessel, were lost off Ship Island in the Gulf of Mexico Wednesday according to reports of the U. S. Navy. The Anezia was saved, but no trace of others was found. Thirty-six men made up crew of the vessel.

Railroad traffic throughout storm
area is badly demoralized.

CHAFIN WANTS FORD
AS DRY'S CANDIDATE

Leader of Prohibition Party Announces He Will Vote for Detroit Man's Nomination.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, July 8.—Eugene W. Chafin, former nominee of the Prohibition party for president, announced today his arrival here today that he will vote for the nomination of Henry Ford for president at the Prohibition national convention at St. Paul, Minn., after next. Coincidentally with Mr.
Chafin's arrival it was announced that
V. G. Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition national committee, had had one interview with Mr. Ford, the subject of the presidential nomination and that he is to have another; that Mr.
Ford's views on the liquor question were satisfactory to the national committee, and the Detroit manufacturer is considering the question and will announce his position in a few days. That Mr. Ford will accept the nomination was taken as a foregone conclusion by Mr. Chafin.

DECREASE SHOWN IN NEW YORK CLEARING HOUSES.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, July 8.—Statement of actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for week shows they held $3,546,060 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $35,747,880 from last week.

M. W. OF A. WILL PAY INSURANCE OF MEN KILLED IN THE WAR.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rock Island, Ill., July 8.—The
M. W. of A. of America, will pay the death claims of members of whom there are almost a million who may lose their lives while engaged in military or naval service of the U. S.
during the war with Mexico. This was decided at a meeting of the council of order held here yesterday.

SLOW GAINS
FOR BRITISH IN THE WEST

RAINS AND STUBBORN OPPO-
TION OF GERMANY'S BEST
TROOPS MAKE PROGRESS UNCERTAIN.

CROWN PRINCE ACTIVE

Resumes Offensive in Verdun Sector
Storming Thiaumont Position—
Allies in Effort to Straighten Their Line.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, July 8.—With the aid of innumerable guns and infantry the British army continues to make slow progress in its efforts to bring its front line between the Ancre and Meuse back even with the French further south, the French having pushed further ahead than their line. This effort has led to the most furious fighting in which the British troops have been engaged. The flower of the German army is opposing them and guns and ammunition are being used lavishly.

Notwithstanding the enormous call of German reserves at the battle of Pleary, the German crown prince has resumed the offensive at Verdun and yesterday the further repeated attacks near the Thiaumont works, without meeting with any success.

A British Fortify Positions.
A British force employed chiefly by the British in strengthening positions yesterday in their drive to bring their lines up to a level with those of the French on their right bank. Heavy French guns now being brought up are counted upon to assist to help in further advance of the British by pounding the southern side of the German salient, south and east of Conde.

The French were busy with minor operations last night on the Somme front, making a successful surprise attack near Bello-en-Santerre, and gaining ground east of St. Pierre and gained operations. They report the capture of four hundred additional prisoners.

There has been violent artillery activity in the Verdun sector, with no resumption of infantry attacks.
Repulse Allied Attacks.
Berlin, July 8.—German troops on both sides of the Somme, in the field of the entente offensive, have repulsed the western front, have repulsed with heavy losses, repeated attacks by the British and French, the war office announced today.

Weather Hinders Fighting.
Paris, July 8.—The French made a further advance last night on the Somme front, but the intensity of Bel-loy-en-Santerre and Esnes, the war office announced today. The gains as a whole in this sector were not large, operations being hindered by bad weather. Several hundred Germans were captured.

On the Verdun front there were violent artillery engagements, particularly in the district of Hill 304, Esnes and Souville.

German View of Somme Battle.
Berlin, via London, July 8.—Today's news from the western front throws little light on the fighting during the last twenty-four hours, but the war show be fighting in the period immediately preceding was most intense at three points: Thiepval, around them and the region right to ten miles south of the Somme river.

In the Thiepval sector there was a succession of bitter attacks and counter attacks. The British several times succeeded by violent assaults in capturing a foothold in Thiepval, but each time were ejected from the ruins of the village. Their losses are described as "extraordinarily heavy."

The only British success, and this is declared to be unimportant, was the capture of a salient of German trench
east of La Boisselle, only a short distance east of the original German line. From La Boisselle southeast
the fighting was of local character.

The Germans have thrown a strong dam around the British roadway and isolated attempts to break the dam have been unsuccessful.

French Capture Hem.
The capture of the village of Hem was accomplished by the French only after three desperate attempts. The first two onslaughts, although delivered with great force and determination, were repulsed. The third assault gave them possession of the village and enabled them to establish outposts on their line between Curly and Feuilliers.

The fighting at Estrees and Belloen-Santerre also was of a house to house and hand to hand character.
The wave of battle swept back and forth, with both French and Germans repeatedly using bayonets and hand grenades, and fighting with the utmost desperation. The loss as to be expected in this kind of fighting, was very heavy. The French finally remained masters of Bello.

The German commanders have prepared for attempts by the French

Second Floor WHITE TENNIS OXFORDS

All sizes, 49c. Men's, women's and children's.

D.J. LUBY

HOWARD'S

Dry Goods. Milwaukee St.

Attractive Neckwear

in collar and collar and cuff sets, 25c, 50c, 59c, 75c.

Windsor Ties, 25c.

Windsor Ties, plain and fancy, 50c.

Parasols, 69c.

ONE PRICE CASH STORE

Bell phone 1080. Rock Co., White 912.

Geo. T. Packard

Piano Tuner and Player Regulator.

Recommended by all music dealers and leading music houses.

A Summer's Night and the Victrola

What visions of good times the thought conjures up.

You can buy a Victrola
from $15 up here and get a choice selection of all the latest records from our large up-to-the-minute stock.

C. W. DIEHLS

THE ART STORE
26 W. Milw. St.

SAVE $5.00

by having your suit made this month. Beautiful line piece goods, any weight.

Ford's

In passing notice show window
8 W. Milwaukee St.

Brodhead News

Brodhead, July 8.—For the month of July and August it has been decided by the various churches of the city to hold union Sunday evening services.

Fred Varn spent Friday in Stoughton.

Miss Luella Smiley of Orfordville was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A.
Parker and family and returned home
on Friday.

Mrs. Faith Hartman and children were passengers to Pennimore, Friday, for a day's stay.

Mrs. G. E. Lahr of Juda spent Friday in Brodhead.

Miss Edith Davis returned Friday
from Beloit where she was the guest of friends for a few days.

Mrs. Emma Bartlett was the guest of friends in Beloit the fore part of the week, returning home Friday.

Mrs. C. Breyer of Monticello was the guest of Mrs. Clara Vetter for a few days and departed for her home
on Friday.

Miss Georgia Marion Karney is unable to use her left hand caused by a severe burn received when an exploded which she was trying to shoot off.

Mrs. W. H. Murray and John Menor were passengers to Janesville and Beloit on Friday afternoon.
This state than it has been in the past.

Mrs. Clara Kenner is visiting Janesville and Beloit friends.

Mrs. L. V. Dodge and little daughter were visitors in Juda, Friday.

Miss Jolliffe of Whitewater, who was the guest of Miss Grace Lake for a few days, returned to her home on Friday.

Two men giving the firm name of Curtis & Curtis, recently leased Broughton's opera house for the purpose of conducting a moving picture show, took French leave last Saturday evening after the entertainment and as yet have not been located. It is said they left several unpaid bills.

NOTICE—Gazette is on sale in Brodhead at Miller's News Stand.

Dangerous Study.
She—It must have taken a lot of persistence on your part to learn to play the ukulele so well. He—It did. I had to go constantly armed for three months.—Punch Bowl.

Spring time is moving time. If you have a house to rent, let it be known through a Gazette want ad.

SIX IN AUTOMOBILE PLUNGE INTO DITCH WITH LITTLE INJURY

Beloit Party's Picnic Dinner Spoiled
by Accident—Broken Wrist is Worst Result of Accident.

The third automobile accident within five days in Janesville and vicinity occurred last evening. As in the previous two wrecks the occupants of the car escaped death or serious injury miraculously.

Today Mrs. L. Waldo Thompson, wife of the president of the Janesville Machine company of Beloit and Mrs.
John Wright, wife of a Milwaukee dentist, are in a Beloit hospital, the first named with serious injuries
about the head and the latter suffering with a broken left wrist and injuries of the face including a badly acerated nose. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Murkland, the former a prominent Beloit shoe merchant and the husbands of Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Wright were uninjured save for minor cuts and some bad bruises, although Mr. Murkland is thought to have sprained a limb.

The accident occurred shortly after seven o'clock about a mile below the state school for the blind. The Beloit people had come to Janesville to meet Dr. and Mrs. Wright, who arrived that evening and who were to visit at Be-loft. Their plan was to motor back to the Line City, stopping on the way for a picnic.

Thompson owned and was driving the car, a heavy eight cylinder merchandise. A stretch of sand leads to culvert and bridge approach and it was while the car was in the sand that he lost control. The car careened to the roadside and plunged down a ten foot embankment and lipped on its side before stopping.
The occupants were thrown from their seats. Luckily the machine did not turn entirely over.

One of the party ran to a nearby
house and called Amos Rehberg,
for many years a friend of Murkland, and instructed him to get doctors and hurry to the scene.

The women were removed to Beloit to the hospital. The machine suffered little damage and the trip to Beloit
after being turned over on its wheels.

CALL A CONFERENCE OF JEFFRIS CLUBS

Meeting Will be Held at Madison July 12 to Consider Further Campaign Plans.

The Rock county Jeffris club will send a large delegation to Madison next Wednesday to attend the state conference of Jeffris clubs which is being held for the purpose of perfecting campaign plans. The trip is being today to insure a big representation from Janesville and the county. In his speech at the republican convention
the county Jeffris is expected to confine himself to national questions, and the conference of his field workers at the Park hotel will deal strictly with the senatorial situation.

ing out invitations to its most successful in Madison July 12. By checking up on progress made to date, the different clubs aim to reach the highest efficiency in teamwork in the movement for Jeffris.

George A. West announced on Friday that it will not be necessary to hold the convention in the stock pavilion.
Reports of the gymnasium
will be so well under way that this building will be available for the meeting. The gymnasium is more desirable than the stock pavilion for the reason that it is more nearer the downtown district in Madison.
Madison is preparing to receive a crowd, and special arrangements will be made to entertain the visitors while in the capital City. A band will meet the incoming delegates and escort them through the main streets of the city. A parade of delegates to the convention hall may be made part of the program. The gymnasium will be decorated in national colors, and the band will play while the delegates are being seated.

DESERTION TROUBLE FIXED UP IN COURT

John Clough Brought from Milwaukee
After Wife Swears Out Warrant.
Affair Amicably Settled.

John Clough, a former Chicago and Northwestern railway switchman in the Janesville yards, was before Judge
H. L. Maxfield in the municipal court yesterday afternoon on wife desertion charges. Clough was arrested by Sheriff Chamberlain for a period of thirty days. Clough was arrested in Milwaukee Thursday by the sheriff. The family will move to Milwaukee, where Clough says he is a good job.

The Fine Flavor—

the delicate taste of malted barley blended with the sweets of whole wheat—is sufficient reason in itself for the wonderful popularity of

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

But it is more than delicious—it is the finest kind of concentrated nourishment to thoroughly sustain body and brain tissue—a food that benefits users remarkably.

A short trial proves

"There's a Reason"

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

AUTHORIZE RAISING OF FUND FOR SCOUTS

Council Takes Action Providing Subscription List for Camping Expedition and Other Scout Needs.

The public will be given an opportunity of assisting financially in the work of the Boy Scouts in this city, as a result of a special meeting of the local council held in the office of the president, H. S. Lovejoy, on Friday.
The immediate needs of the four troops now organized here are for camping, the first of which starts next week. Camp life is an important part of the scout's training as he can't be taken for the average scout and the council plans on starting a city-wide campaign for funds, not only for the expenses of the camp,
but also for such needs as the balance of the year will bring forth.

The Gazette has been requested to receive contributions from those who believe in the great work being done by the Boy Scouts of America, and to publish this list in its columns of the paper beginning Monday.

The greater aim of the Boy Scouts of America is to make every Boy Scout a better citizen. It aims to touch him physically, in the campcraft and wood-craft of the outdoor life that he may have strength in after days to give the city a better citizen, as well as to the nation. It aims to develop him as a man in which he lives, as well as to the nation of which he is a part. It seeks to develop him by observation, and the knowing of things far and near, so that later on when he enters business life, he may be alert and ready to be able to add to the wealth of the nation. It teaches him civility and unselfishness, duty, charity, thrift and industry so that no matter what should happen in business, or social or national life, he may always be a true gentleman, seeking to give sympathy, help, encouragement, and good deeds to those about him.

It teaches him patriotism by telling him about the country he lives in,
her history, her army and navy, in order that he may be ready to defend her and do those things which every citizen ought to do to make the community and land that he lives in the best community and land in the world.

As an organization the scout movement is not military in thought, form, or spirit, although it does instill in boys the military virtues such as honor, loyalty, obedience, and discipline.
The uniform, the patrol, the troop and
the drill are not for military tactics;
they are for the unity, the harmony and the spirit of the scout. Boys learn in scouting.

SCOUTS WILL LEAVE FOR CAMP NEXT WEEK

First Annual Boy Scouts' Camp Will Be Held at Lake Koshkonong for Ten Days.

Troops one, two and three of the local Boy Scouts' organization will leave for their first annual summer
camp at Pierce's Point, Koshkonong, Monday morning at six o'clock. The camp will be in session for ten days
and already twenty-six boys have registered on the list to attend. It is expected by the scout council that between thirty-five and forty boys will be in the camp. A full program of work has been planned for the ten days' outing, and the boys will have a good time in lessons in scout and wood-craft will be given along with the different requirements that go along with a full fledged scout.

The boys will do all their own cooking so good meals (?) can be assured.
Swimming will be taught to those not knowing how, and at the end of the outing it is expected that everyone will be able to swim at least fifty yards. Every boy will learn how to cook potatoes and meat and be able to start a fire in the open with one match.

The boys will sleep in tents. Two large tents have been secured for the meeting and eating places and a number of smaller ones for sleeping quarters.

The troops will leave early Monday morning and arrive at the lake with them. Arrangements will be made for arriving at the lake with the troops.
Masters will be in charge of the camp
while in session, so that the parents can feel safe and know their boys.
Visitors will be welcome to the camp.
The camp address will be Milton Junction, R. F. D. No. 13, in care of S. J. Pierce.

The Boy Scout council met in their regular meeting last yesterday afternoon and transacted a number of important business matters. As a result of an action taken by the council last night it is expected that many more boys will be able to go on the camp next week.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT PLEASANT DANCING PARTY

Twenty-five couples were pleasantly entertained last evening at a dancing party at Teppichorean Hall by Fred W. Lipp.

Refreshments were served throughout the evening and everyone spent a most enjoyable time. The music was furnished by Mrs. Allen Rich, piano, and Carl Kellar, drums.

DR. LAPP WILL LECTURE ON TRAVEL IN PALESTINE

The Rev. C. E. Lapp, acting pastor of the Baptist church, will give an illustrated lecture next Thursday evening at the Baptist church on the subject, "My Horseback Ride Through Palestine With a Kodak." The lecture will be of popular interest, but will be especially helpful to Sunday school teachers and Bible students. The churches of the city have accepted Dr.
Lapp's invitation to have the lecture
take the place of the usual mid-week prayer meeting. The public is cordially welcome. The service will begin at seven-thirty.

Real Estate Transfers.

Euphemia M. Dennett to Richard Brook, $1; lot 121 Morgan's add, West Milton.
Mar. L. Blakely to Victor P. Enright and wife, $1; lot 75, Chapman's sub, Janesville.
Charles Harburt and wife to Leslie
A. Howes, $2,500; pt. sec. 23-3-14.
Charles Graves and wife to Victor
Rauer, $500; e½ lots 151 and 152,
Mitchell's 3d add, Janesville.
Mary L. Blakely to William L.
Chase, $1; pt. lot 16, Chapman's add,
Janesville.
B. D. Fay et al, trustees to Susan
E. Cunningham, $250; lot 2, blk. 19, Evansville.
Priscilla E. Seaver Miller to J. B.
Werfa, $1; pt. sec. 23-3-14.
Charles E. Rau and wife to Charles
J. Mitchell, $1; lot 11, Rau's sub,
Janesville.
Charles E. Rau and wife to Charles
J. Mitchell, $1; lot 12, Rau's 2d sub, Janesville.

FORMER LOCAL BOY GETS IMPORTANT JOB

John Devins Promoted to General
Yardmaster of Big Railway Switch Yards at Minneapolis.

Word received here today told of the appointment of John W. Devins as general yardmaster of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railway yards at Minneapolis. Mr. Devins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Devins of 215 Locust street. He is well known in this city, being a graduate of the Janesville high school and of the Janesville Business college. He began railroad work under John C. Fox, retired, then active master mechanic of the Janesville shops and Mineral Point division of the Milwaukee road.
Mrs. Devins will be remembered as May Morrissey, daughter of 214 Center street.

EAST SIDE OILING WILL START MONDAY

Milton Avenue Will Get First Covering—Forest Park Boulevard Contractors Commence.

Street oiling work on the east side of the river is to commence on Monday. Superintendent of Streets Peter
J. Goodman announced this morning.
Repairs on all streets has already be-started and the sand covering is being distributed.

Contractors who were awarded the bid for the paving of Forest Park boulevard have begun excavation for this work and their assurances are that it will be pushed as fast as weather and other conditions permit.

In the Churches

Cargill Methodist Episcopal Church.

Corner Franklin and Pleasant Sts.
Rev. Francis H. Brigham, Pastor.
Morning worship 10:30. Sermon subject, "Seasoned Christians."

Sunday school 12:00. Classes for all ages.

Epworth League at 6:30. Sermon subject, "The Tale of Two Cities or The Transforming Power of Sacrifice." This is the second in a series of sermons on "The Gospel of Christ in Modern Fiction."

Mid-week service Thursday at 7:30.

First Baptist Church.

First Baptist church—Rev. Clarence E. Lapp, Ph. D., acting pastor. Residence 420 Madison street.

The usual services will be held.
In charge at 10:35 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
Sermon subject: Morning, "The Approaching Harvest;" evening, "Destined for Single Choice."

Bible school at 12:00. Sabbath superintendent. All departments fully graded and a place for all who enroll. Meets promptly at 9:45.

Sunday school at 10:30. See special announcement elsewhere for Thursday night. The public is cordially invited to all these services.

First Presbyterian Church.

First Presbyterian church—located on North Jackson street at the corner of West street. Rev. George Edner Pastor.

9:45—Morning Bible school. A class for every age. B. C. Jackson, superintendent.

10:45—Morning worship. Theme:
"The Power of God."

6:30—Young People's Society Christian Endeavor.

7:30—Special illustrated lecture on Yellowstone National Park. The public is cordially invited.

First Christian Church.

First Christian church—Corner Milwaukee and Academy streets. Clark Walker, pastor.

Worship and singing, 10:00 a. m.
The opening service will be in charge of the Loyal Daughters' class. Be sure and be present for the opening number of the evening service for Christ.

Christian Endeavor—9:45 p. m.
Pledge Drapery is the leader. This will be an envelope meeting and will be most interesting. Remember the contest is on.

Evening worship—7:45 p. m. "Can
We Blame God for the Failures and Trials of Life?" will be the subject of the evening service.

A welcome awaits you at all the services.

Trinity Episcopal Church.

Trinity Episcopal church—Rev.
Henry Willmann, rector.

Third Sunday after Trinity.
Holy Communion—7:30 a. m.
Morning prayer, litany and sermon:
—10:00 a. m.

Christian Science Church.

First Church of Christ, Scientist.
Church edifice, 323 Pleasant street.
Services:
Sunday—10:30 a. m.
Sunday school—12 m.
Wednesday—7:45 p. m.
Sabbath School—9:45 a. m.

Sacrament, Reading room, 503
Jackson Block, open daily except Sundays and holidays from 12 m. to 5 p. m.

Congregational Church.

Congregational church—Rev. Chas.
E. Bwing, pastor.
9:45 a. m.—Sunday school. Classes for all.

10:35 a. m.—Morning worship. Subject: "The Power of Liberty." Kindergarten for small children of the congregation.

6:00 p. m.—Evening worship. Subject: "Setting Janesville Right." Thursday, 7:30 p. m.—Mid-week meeting. Subject: "The Power of Prayer."

The public are cordially invited to attend all of these services.

BELLANS

Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

HOG PRICES HIGHER ON A WEAK MARKET

Demand is Slow but Quotations Are Ten Cents Better Than Friday's Average.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, July 8.—There was a slow demand for hogs this morning, although prices ranged ten cents higher. Several loads of heavy butchers reaching the top of $10.25. Hot weather had its effects on receipts, which reached but 11,000. The market summary follows:

Cattle—Receipts 200; market steady; native beef steers 7.30@7.50; 11:20; western steers 8.20@8.40; stockers and feeders 5.60@5.85; cows and heifers 3.75@3.95; calves 8.50@12.00.

Hogs—Receipts 11,000; market weak; 10:10; average yesterday's average, light 9.00@10.10; mixed 9.35@
10.20; heavy 9.50@10.25; rough 9.50@
9.65; pigs 9.15@9.80; bulk of sales
9.85@10.10.

Sheep—Receipts 5,000; market steady; wethers 8.50@9.00; lambs, native 7.50@10.85.

Butter—Unchanged.
Eggs—Unchanged; 15,560 cases.
Poultry—Receipts 1,000; market steady; chickens 1.00@1.03; high 1.03; low 1.03; closing 1.03; Sent:
Opening 1.05@1.10; low 1.06; closing 1.09.

Corn—July: Opening 77½; high 78;
low 76½; closing 77½; Sept: Opening 74½; high 74½; low 73½; closing 74½.
Oats—July: Opening 38½; high 40;
low 38½; closing 38½; Sept:
Opening 38½; high 39½; low 38½;
closing 39½.

Cash Market.
Wheat—No. 2 red nominal; No. 3
red nominal; No. 2 hard nominal; No.
3 hard nominal.

Corn—No. 2 yellow 80½@81; No. 4
yellow 79.
Oats—No. 3 white 39½@40; standard 39½.

Timothy—$8.75.
Clover—$7.00@14.00.
Lard—$24.50@25.00.
Pork—$13.30.
Ribs—$13.40@14.00.
Rye—No. 2 nominal.
Barley—$2@80.

Friday's Markets.
Chicago, July 8.—After a 5c lower start yesterday's hog market closed strong, with decline regained. Our bought freely, paying $10.17½ top for the day.

Cash pork products met with a good call at night prices, which made a good demand from small packers. The good demand from small packers, representing city butchers, alone bought 3,500 swine.

Lambs sold actively yesterday at 10:25c advance in prices, some selling to a city butcher at $11.10, being same top as a week ago.

Receipts for today are estimated at 200 cattle, 12,000 hogs and 4,000 sheep, against 177 cattle, 10,000 hogs and 2,805 sheep a year ago.

Cattle Supply is Short.
Only 1,000 cattle were received yesterday, being a record for the season.
Some 12-15 yearlings made $10, with only three other loads of steers above $9.

Beef cattle nominal.
Unchanged. Yearling calves advanced 25c, reaching $12.25, within 10c of last year's top. Quotations:
Choice to fancy steers... $10.35@11.25
Poor to good steers... $2.00@10.30
Fat cows and heifers... $5.00@10.90
Canning cows and calves... 3.65@7.25
Native bulls and stags... 5.50@8.75 Feeding cattle, 600@1,100
lbs... 5.80@8.55
Poor to fancy veal calves... 8.75@12.25

Late Hog Market Strong.
Closing hog market yesterday was strong, in Thursday's prices, with $10.25 offered late for special packing. Only 2,500 remained in the pens. Our buyers were better. Buyers are discriminating against grassy offerings.
Bulk of sales... $9.40@9.55. Quotations:
Heavy butchers' and shipping... 10.00@10.20
Light butchers'... 9.90@10.15
Light bacon... 145@150 lbs... 9.70@10.05
Heavy packing... 250@400
lbs... 9.65@9.90
Mixed packing... 200@250
lbs... 9.65@9.90
Rough heavy packing... 9.50@9.65
Poor to best pigs, 60@135
lbs... 8.10@9.50
Sow, 30 lbs. dockage per head... 9.40@9.30

Children's Serial Story

By Paul Holmes.
En Route for Mexico.

In Two Parts. Part Two.

A good night's rest did nothing to quell Winsor's feelings regarding his unjust treatment of the night before. And also, his midnight dreams of Mexico were not forgotten.

Winsor awoke about 6 o'clock and lay in bed thinking. Why not run away and go to Mexico? No body wanted him here. There he would fight his way to honor and distinction. And at last, when he was a commander-in-chief of the whole army, he would return and stalk up the street. People would look at him and whisper, "That's Winsor Thornegate, the famous soldier. He ran away from home when he was a little boy because of the treatment he received from his parents. Then he would come back to his old home, and his mother and father would be so sorry for the way they had treated him, and they would beg his forgiveness."

Yes, it was settled. He would run away. He would go to Mexico and join the army. Then when he was a commander-in-chief, he would come back to his old home, and his mother and father would be so sorry for the way they had treated him, and they would beg his forgiveness.

"Winsor," the call came from his mother, below. The stiffened in his bed and said no word.

"Winsor, breakfast!"

"Aw, ding it!" muttered the person addressed, to himself, "she don't let me alone at all. I can't even sleep."

"Winsor," this time a voice came in a deep masculine voice. His very accents gave him of danger.

"Yes," Winsor's prompt answer, "I'm coming just as fast as I can."

So the boy climbed out of bed and started to dress. It might be for the last time in this house, he thought.

At the Brown residence much the same scene was being enacted. Harold had been a close prisoner in his room all the preceding afternoon, and was consequently in about the same state of mind that Winsor was.

When he got up in the morning he was possessed of a great desire to see Winsor and compare notes with him regarding their afternoon's adventures. But his mother informed him that inasmuch as he had stolen cookies at Winsor's house he could not go over there for a month; and also, for the whole day he could not leave the house except on errands.

This sentence, while a just one, had the really committed the crime of which he was accused, served only to make Harold literally boil over. Not to go over to Winsor's for a whole month! It was unthinkable! It was terrible. It was absolutely unendurable. He would kill himself before he would undergo any such punishment.

Frankie appeal to his mother failed to gain a commutation of sentence. "If you will steal when you are away from home, you mustn't go away from home," Mrs. Brown told him.

"But I won't steal!" Harold burst out. We wuz just playin'!

"Yes, I suppose so," was the somewhat sarcastic answer.

Later that day Winsor was sent to a store down town at the same time that Harold went to the same store after some cheese and bread. Both were tales of injustice. Each and the more they talked the more they hated the plan of going to Mexico and Harold received it with manifest enthusiasm.

"I guess we'll make 'em sorry," he exclaimed.

"You bet we will," cried Winsor. "My plan is to come out of the house for three days and it'll depend how good I wuz whether I ever want to see you again. We'll show 'em!"

Then they laid their plans for escaping from the bondage spread out before them for many a weary week, and for the best part of vacation, in the morning maybe they folks "ud find out how they was mean, and they'd be awful sorry, but nothing could help them now. Their sons would be far, far away. Then they bawled and each took their bundles home.

Winsor immediately repaired to his room and got all his treasures together. His compass, his collapsible tent, his big bandana handkerchief, and the black domino mask he had made to play robber with, comprised the collection. Winsor was ready. Darkness alone was needed to complete the rest.

And, at length, darkness came. Winsor pretended to read, but was too excited. He procured a slip of paper and wrote a message.

"Dear Mama: Goodbye. I will never see you again. I am going away to Mexico, because you are so mean to me. If you look you will find my arrows right behind the bed. If I get killed maybe you will be sorry. Winsor Jefferson Thornegate."

This he folded and put in his pocket. When his mother went to his room he was bed time he vented one of his usual objections. Mrs. Thornegate was mildly surprised, but she reflected that his whining and other punishments had been doing him good, and she thought that if he behaved himself like that for a few nights she would grant him a pardon.

Once upstairs Winsor gathered his valuables and put them in his pockets, with the exception of the mask and the handkerchief, which he put on the bed. The pistol, which he adjusted on his belt.

Then he laid the note on the bed in plain sight.

"Now for it," he whispered. The front door was at the bottom of the stairs and on warm nights it was generally left open until the family retired. Winsor removed his shoes and commenced a cautious descent. Long practice as playing cowboy and Indian aided him and he reached the open door without any trouble. Freedom was ahead. Carefully he stepped over the threshold and out on the porch. With a dash, he was in the grass and running. He had made his escape.

The corner was the meeting place agreed upon by the boys. Winsor hoped against hope that Harold was there. But he hardly dared to think so. Generally, something went wrong somewhere.

"Hi, Winsor, did you get out all right?" It was Harold's voice and it sounded very welcome. "I had some luck. The milkman couldn't come tonight, and when he telephoned, ma told me after it. I grabbed my things and I was back. Now c'mon, we gotta hurry."

"I guess we have," said Winsor. "In a couple of hours my folks 'll be goin' in stirs, and maybe they'll look in my room, and maybe they'll look in your room, and maybe they'll look in your room. What'll we do, wait until a freight train comes or walk to Borton about four miles away and get one there?"

"They wouldn't know us there," said Harold. "So 't would be better. All the robbers we read about go where they ain't known, and then they're all right. That's what we better do."

"Then c'mon," urged Winsor. "Accordingly they started down the road for the four mile walk to Borton, and for a time neither spoke. Alone, and for them would have gone home as quickly as possible; and now, that final little plan had gotten into its safe at home. When they had been planning, the thought of consequences had not entered their heads. But neither would have let the other know of his feelings for the world. So they walked on in silence for a time.

"Isn't this a lotta fun?" Winsor ventured at last.

"Corkin'," responded Harold, with lame enthusiasm. "Do you suppose we'll get to Borton in an hour?"

"We ought to," said Winsor, "if we hurry."

So they hurried. In a little time they were tired and sweating. The darkness was terrible. But still, with dog-like perseverance, they kept on. And at last they came to the road. Which way should they go? Harold discerned a sign post.

"How 'bout that?" Winsor inquired. "We'll have to climb it."

"You climb it," Harold suggested. "I'll boost you."

So Winsor climbed, or tried to. Harold's aid was not much in the way of assistance. Twice after Winsor nearly gained the top he slipped and tore his clothes. But at last came success. Alone was needed to complete the rest.

And, at length, darkness came. Winsor pretended to read, but was too excited. He procured a slip of paper and wrote a message.

"Dear Mama: Goodbye. I will never see you again. I am going away to Mexico, because you are so mean to me. If you look you will find my arrows right behind the bed. If I get killed maybe you will be sorry. Winsor Jefferson Thornegate."

This he folded and put in his pocket. When his mother went to his room he was bed time he vented one of his usual objections. Mrs. Thornegate was mildly surprised, but she reflected that his whining and other punishments had been doing him good, and she thought that if he behaved himself like that for a few nights she would grant him a pardon.

Once upstairs Winsor gathered his valuables and put them in his pockets, with the exception of the mask and the handkerchief, which he put on the bed. The pistol, which he adjusted on his belt.

Then he laid the note on the bed in plain sight.

"Now for it," he whispered. The front door was at the bottom of the stairs and on warm nights it was generally left open until the family retired. Winsor removed his shoes and commenced a cautious descent. Long practice as playing cowboy and Indian aided him and he reached the open door without any trouble. Freedom was ahead. Carefully he stepped over the threshold and out on the porch. With a dash, he was in the grass and running. He had made his escape.

The corner was the meeting place agreed upon by the boys. Winsor hoped against hope that Harold was there. But he hardly dared to think so. Generally, something went wrong somewhere.

"Hi, Winsor, did you get out all right?" It was Harold's voice and it sounded very welcome. "I had some luck. The milkman couldn't come tonight, and when he telephoned, ma told me after it. I grabbed my things and I was back. Now c'mon, we gotta hurry."

"I guess we have," said Winsor. "In a couple of hours my folks 'll be goin' in stirs, and maybe they'll look in my room, and maybe they'll look in your room, and maybe they'll look in your room. What'll we do, wait until a freight train comes or walk to Borton about four miles away and get one there?"

"They wouldn't know us there," said Harold. "So 't would be better. All the robbers we read about go where they ain't known, and then they're all right. That's what we better do."

"Then c'mon," urged Winsor. "Accordingly they started down the road for the four mile walk to Borton, and for a time neither spoke. Alone, and for them would have gone home as quickly as possible; and now, that final little plan had gotten into its safe at home. When they had been planning, the thought of consequences had not entered their heads. But neither would have let the other know of his feelings for the world. So they walked on in silence for a time.

"Isn't this a lotta fun?" Winsor ventured at last.

"Corkin'," responded Harold, with lame enthusiasm. "Do you suppose we'll get to Borton in an hour?"

"We ought to," said Winsor, "if we hurry."

So they hurried. In a little time they were tired and sweating. The darkness was terrible. But still, with dog-like perseverance, they kept on. And at last they came to the road. Which way should they go? Harold discerned a sign post.

"How 'bout that?" Winsor inquired. "We'll have to climb it."

"You climb it," Harold suggested. "I'll boost you."

So Winsor climbed, or tried to. Harold's aid was not much in the way of assistance. Twice after Winsor nearly gained the top he slipped and tore his clothes. But at last came success. Alone was needed to complete the rest.

And, at length, darkness came. Winsor pretended to read, but was too excited. He procured a slip of paper and wrote a message.

"Dear Mama: Goodbye. I will never see you again. I am going away to Mexico, because you are so mean to me. If you look you will find my arrows right behind the bed. If I get killed maybe you will be sorry. Winsor Jefferson Thornegate."

This he folded and put in his pocket. When his mother went to his room he was bed time he vented one of his usual objections. Mrs. Thornegate was mildly surprised, but she reflected that his whining and other punishments had been doing him good, and she thought that if he behaved himself like that for a few nights she would grant him a pardon.

Once upstairs Winsor gathered his valuables and put them in his pockets, with the exception of the mask and the handkerchief, which he put on the bed. The pistol, which he adjusted on his belt.

Then he laid the note on the bed in plain sight.

"Now for it," he whispered. The front door was at the bottom of the stairs and on warm nights it was generally left open until the family retired. Winsor removed his shoes and commenced a cautious descent. Long practice as playing cowboy and Indian aided him and he reached the open door without any trouble. Freedom was ahead. Carefully he stepped over the threshold and out on the porch. With a dash, he was in the grass and running. He had made his escape.

The corner was the meeting place agreed upon by the boys. Winsor hoped against hope that Harold was there. But he hardly dared to think so. Generally, something went wrong somewhere.

"Hi, Winsor, did you get out all right?" It was Harold's voice and it sounded very welcome. "I had some luck. The milkman couldn't come tonight, and when he telephoned, ma told me after it. I grabbed my things and I was back. Now c'mon, we gotta hurry."

"I guess we have," said Winsor. "In a couple of hours my folks 'll be goin' in stirs, and maybe they'll look in my room, and maybe they'll look in your room, and maybe they'll look in your room. What'll we do, wait until a freight train comes or walk to Borton about four miles away and get one there?"

"They wouldn't know us there," said Harold. "So 't would be better. All the robbers we read about go where they ain't known, and then they're all right. That's what we better do."

"Then c'mon," urged Winsor. "Accordingly they started down the road for the four mile walk to Borton, and for a time neither spoke. Alone, and for them would have gone home as quickly as possible; and now, that final little plan had gotten into its safe at home. When they had been planning, the thought of consequences had not entered their heads. But neither would have let the other know of his feelings for the world. So they walked on in silence for a time.

"Isn't this a lotta fun?" Winsor ventured at last.

"Corkin'," responded Harold, with lame enthusiasm. "Do you suppose we'll get to Borton in an hour?"

"We ought to," said Winsor, "if we hurry."

So they hurried. In a little time they were tired and sweating. The darkness was terrible. But still, with dog-like perseverance, they kept on. And at last they came to the road. Which way should they go? Harold discerned a sign post.

"How 'bout that?" Winsor inquired. "We'll have to climb it."

"You climb it," Harold suggested. "I'll boost you."

So Winsor climbed, or tried to. Harold's aid was not much in the way of assistance. Twice after Winsor nearly gained the top he slipped and tore his clothes. But at last came success. Alone was needed to complete the rest.

And, at length, darkness came. Winsor pretended to read, but was too excited. He procured a slip of paper and wrote a message.

"Dear Mama: Goodbye. I will never see you again. I am going away to Mexico, because you are so mean to me. If you look you will find my arrows right behind the bed. If I get killed maybe you will be sorry. Winsor Jefferson Thornegate."

This he folded and put in his pocket. When his mother went to his room he was bed time he vented one of his usual objections. Mrs. Thornegate was mildly surprised, but she reflected that his whining and other punishments had been doing him good, and she thought that if he behaved himself like that for a few nights she would grant him a pardon.

Once upstairs Winsor gathered his valuables and put them in his pockets, with the exception of the mask and the handkerchief, which he put on the bed. The pistol, which he adjusted on his belt.

Then he laid the note on the bed in plain sight.

"Now for it," he whispered. The front door was at the bottom of the stairs and on warm nights it was generally left open until the family retired. Winsor removed his shoes and commenced a cautious descent. Long practice as playing cowboy and Indian aided him and he reached the open door without any trouble. Freedom was ahead. Carefully he stepped over the threshold and out on the porch. With a dash, he was in the grass and running. He had made his escape.

The corner was the meeting place agreed upon by the boys. Winsor hoped against hope that Harold was there. But he hardly dared to think so. Generally, something went wrong somewhere.

"Hi, Winsor, did you get out all right?" It was Harold's voice and it sounded very welcome. "I had some luck. The milkman couldn't come tonight, and when he telephoned, ma told me after it. I grabbed my things and I was back. Now c'mon, we gotta hurry."

"I guess we have," said Winsor. "In a couple of hours my folks 'll be goin' in stirs, and maybe they'll look in my room, and maybe they'll look in your room, and maybe they'll look in your room. What'll we do, wait until a freight train comes or walk to Borton about four miles away and get one there?"

"They wouldn't know us there," said Harold. "So 't would be better. All the robbers we read about go where they ain't known, and then they're all right. That's what we better do."

"Then c'mon," urged Winsor. "Accordingly they started down the road for the four mile walk to Borton, and for a time neither spoke. Alone, and for them would have gone home as quickly as possible; and now, that final little plan had gotten into its safe at home. When they had been planning, the thought of consequences had not entered their heads. But neither would have let the other know of his feelings for the world. So they walked on in silence for a time.

"Isn't this a lotta fun?" Winsor ventured at last.

"Corkin'," responded Harold, with lame enthusiasm. "Do you suppose we'll get to Borton in an hour?"

"We ought to," said Winsor, "if we hurry."

So they hurried. In a little time they were tired and sweating. The darkness was terrible. But still, with dog-like perseverance, they kept on. And at last they came to the road. Which way should they go? Harold discerned a sign post.

"How 'bout that?" Winsor inquired. "We'll have to climb it."

"You climb it," Harold suggested. "I'll boost you."

So Winsor climbed, or tried to. Harold's aid was not much in the way of assistance. Twice after Winsor nearly gained the top he slipped and tore his clothes. But at last came success. Alone was needed to complete the rest.

And, at length, darkness came. Winsor pretended to read, but was too excited. He procured a slip of paper and wrote a message.

"Dear Mama: Goodbye. I will never see you again. I am going away to Mexico, because you are so mean to me. If you look you will find my arrows right behind the bed. If I get killed maybe you will be sorry. Winsor Jefferson Thornegate."

This he folded and put in his pocket. When his mother went to his room he was bed time he vented one of his usual objections. Mrs. Thornegate was mildly surprised, but she reflected that his whining and other punishments had been doing him good, and she thought that if he behaved himself like that for a few nights she would grant him a pardon.

Once upstairs Winsor gathered his valuables and put them in his pockets, with the exception of the mask and the handkerchief, which he put on the bed. The pistol, which he adjusted on his belt.

Then he laid the note on the bed in plain sight.

"Now for it," he whispered. The front door was at the bottom of the stairs and on warm nights it was generally left open until the family retired. Winsor removed his shoes and commenced a cautious descent. Long practice as playing cowboy and Indian aided him and he reached the open door without any trouble. Freedom was ahead. Carefully he stepped over the threshold and out on the porch. With a dash, he was in the grass and running. He had made his escape.

The corner was the meeting place agreed upon by the boys. Winsor hoped against hope that Harold was there. But he hardly dared to think so. Generally, something went wrong somewhere.

"Hi, Winsor, did you get out all right?" It was Harold's voice and it sounded very welcome. "I had some luck. The milkman couldn't come tonight, and when he telephoned, ma told me after it. I grabbed my things and I was back. Now c'mon, we gotta hurry."

"I guess we have," said Winsor. "In a couple of hours my folks 'll be goin' in stirs, and maybe they'll look in my room, and maybe they'll look in your room, and maybe they'll look in your room. What'll we do, wait until a freight train comes or walk to Borton about four miles away and get one there?"

"They wouldn't know us there," said Harold. "So 't would be better. All the robbers we read about go where they ain't known, and then they're all right. That's what we better do."

"Then c'mon," urged Winsor. "Accordingly they started down the road for the four mile walk to Borton, and for a time neither spoke. Alone, and for them would have gone home as quickly as possible; and now, that final little plan had gotten into its safe at home. When they had been planning, the thought of consequences had not entered their heads. But neither would have let the other know of his feelings for the world. So they walked on in silence for a time.

"Isn't this a lotta fun?" Winsor ventured at last.

"Corkin'," responded Harold, with lame enthusiasm. "Do you suppose we'll get to Borton in an hour?"

"We ought to," said Winsor, "if we hurry."

So they hurried. In a little time they were tired and sweating. The darkness was terrible. But still, with dog-like perseverance, they kept on. And at last they came to the road. Which way should they go? Harold discerned a sign post.

"How 'bout that?" Winsor inquired. "We'll have to climb it."

"You climb it," Harold suggested. "I'll boost you."

So Winsor climbed, or tried to. Harold's aid was not much in the way of assistance. Twice after Winsor nearly gained the top he slipped and tore his clothes. But at last came success. Alone was needed to complete the rest.

And, at length, darkness came. Winsor pretended to read, but was too excited. He procured a slip of paper and wrote a message.

"Dear Mama: Goodbye. I will never see you again. I am going away to Mexico, because you are so mean to me. If you look you will find my arrows right behind the bed. If I get killed maybe you will be sorry. Winsor Jefferson Thornegate."

This he folded and put in his pocket. When his mother went to his room he was bed time he vented one of his usual objections. Mrs. Thornegate was mildly surprised, but she reflected that his whining and other punishments had been doing him good, and she thought that if he behaved himself like that for a few nights she would grant him a pardon.

Once upstairs Winsor gathered his valuables and put them in his pockets, with the exception of the mask and the handkerchief, which he put on the bed. The pistol, which he adjusted on his belt.

Then he laid the note on the bed in plain sight.

"Now for it," he whispered. The front door was at the bottom of the stairs and on warm nights it was generally left open until the family retired. Winsor removed his shoes and commenced a cautious descent. Long practice as playing cowboy and Indian aided him and he reached the open door without any trouble. Freedom was ahead. Carefully he stepped over the threshold and out on the porch. With a dash, he was in the grass and running. He had made his escape.

The corner was the meeting place agreed upon by the boys. Winsor hoped against hope that Harold was there. But he hardly dared to think so. Generally, something went wrong somewhere.

"Hi, Winsor, did you get out all right?" It was Harold's voice and it sounded very welcome. "I had some luck. The milkman couldn't come tonight, and when he telephoned, ma told me after it. I grabbed my things and I was back. Now c'mon, we gotta hurry."

"I guess we have," said Winsor. "In a couple of hours my folks 'll be goin' in stirs, and maybe they'll look in my room, and maybe they'll look in your room, and maybe they'll look in your room. What'll we do, wait until a freight train comes or walk to Borton about four miles away and get one there?"

"They wouldn't know us there," said Harold. "So 't would be better. All the robbers we read about go where they ain't known, and then they're all right. That's what we better do."

"Then c'mon," urged Winsor. "Accordingly they started down the road for the four mile walk to Borton, and for a time neither spoke. Alone, and for them would have gone home as quickly as possible; and now, that final little plan had gotten into its safe at home. When they had been planning, the thought of consequences had not entered their heads. But neither would have let the other know of his feelings for the world. So they walked on in silence for a time.

"Isn't this a lotta fun?" Winsor ventured at last.

"Corkin'," responded Harold, with lame enthusiasm. "Do you suppose we'll get to Borton in an hour?"

"We ought to," said Winsor, "if we hurry."

So they hurried. In a little time they were tired and sweating. The darkness was terrible. But still, with dog-like perseverance, they kept on. And at last they came to the road. Which way should they go? Harold discerned a sign post.

"How 'bout that?" Winsor inquired. "We'll have to climb it."

"You climb it," Harold suggested. "I'll boost you."

So Winsor climbed, or tried to. Harold's aid was not much in the way of assistance. Twice after Winsor nearly gained the top he slipped and tore his clothes. But at last came success. Alone was needed to complete the rest.

And, at length, darkness came. Winsor pretended to read, but was too excited. He procured a slip of paper and wrote a message.

"Dear Mama: Goodbye. I will never see you again. I am going away to Mexico, because you are so mean to me. If you look you will find my arrows right behind the bed. If I get killed maybe you will be sorry. Winsor Jefferson Thornegate."

This he folded and put in his pocket. When his mother went to his room he was bed time he vented one of his usual objections. Mrs. Thornegate was mildly surprised, but she reflected that his whining and other punishments had been doing him good, and she thought that if he behaved himself like that for a few nights she would grant him a pardon.

Once upstairs Winsor gathered his valuables and put them in his pockets, with the exception of the mask and the handkerchief, which he put on the bed. The pistol, which he adjusted on his belt.

Then he laid the note on the bed in plain sight.

"Now for it," he whispered. The front door was at the bottom of the stairs and on warm nights it was generally left open until the family retired. Winsor removed his shoes and commenced a cautious descent. Long practice as playing cowboy and Indian aided him and he reached the open door without any trouble. Freedom was ahead. Carefully he stepped over the threshold and out on the porch. With a dash, he was in the grass and running. He had made his escape.

The corner was the meeting place agreed upon by the boys. Winsor hoped against hope that Harold was there. But he hardly dared to think so. Generally, something went wrong somewhere.

"Hi, Winsor, did you get out all right?" It was Harold's voice and it sounded very welcome. "I had some luck. The milkman couldn't come tonight, and when he telephoned, ma told me after it. I grabbed my things and I was back. Now c'mon, we gotta hurry."

"I guess we have," said Winsor. "In a couple of hours my folks 'll be goin' in stirs, and maybe they'll look in my room, and maybe they'll look in your room, and maybe they'll look in your room. What'll we do, wait until a freight train comes or walk to Borton about four miles away and get one there?"

"They wouldn't know us there," said Harold. "So 't would be better. All the robbers we read about go where they ain't known, and then they're all right. That's what we better do."

"Then c'mon," urged Winsor. "Accordingly they started down the road for the four mile walk to Borton, and for a time neither spoke. Alone, and for them would have gone home as quickly as possible; and now, that final little plan had gotten into its safe at home. When they had been planning, the thought of consequences had not entered their heads. But neither would have let the other know of his feelings for the world. So they walked on in silence for a time.

"Isn't this a lotta fun?" Winsor ventured at last.

"Corkin'," responded Harold, with lame enthusiasm. "Do you suppose we'll get to Borton in an hour?"

"We ought to," said Winsor, "if we hurry."

So they hurried. In a little time they were tired and sweating. The darkness was terrible. But still, with dog-like perseverance, they kept on. And at last they came to the road. Which way should they go? Harold discerned a sign post.

"How 'bout that?" Winsor inquired. "We'll have to climb it."

"You climb it," Harold suggested. "I'll boost you."

So Winsor climbed, or tried to. Harold's aid was not much in the way of assistance. Twice after Winsor nearly gained the top he slipped and tore his clothes. But at last came success. Alone was needed to complete the rest.

And, at length, darkness came. Winsor pretended to read, but was too excited. He procured a slip of paper and wrote a message.

"Dear Mama: Goodbye. I will never see you again. I am going

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

Members of Associated Press.
Member of Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Member of Wisconsin Daily League.

WEATHER FORECAST.

BY CARRIERS
One Year $10.00
Six Months $5.00
Three Months $2.50
One Year BY MAIL CASH IN ADVANCE $10.00
Six Months $5.00
Three Months $2.50
RURAL DELIVERY IN ROCK COUNTY
One Year $10.00
Six Months $5.00
Three Months $2.50

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

In sending change of addresses for your paper be sure to give the present address as well as the new one. This will insure better and quicker service.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

The publication of Obituary Notices, Resolutions, Cards of Thanks, etc., can be made at the per cent counter rate of a word each. Church and lodge announcements free on insertion except those announcing an event for which a charge is made. These and subsequent insertions of any notice are made at line prices.

The Gazette does not knowingly accept false or fraudulent advertising or other advertising of an objectionable nature. Every advertisement in its columns is printed with full confidence in the character and reliability of the advertiser and the truth of the representations made. Readers of the Gazette will confer a favor if they will promptly report any false or fraudulent advertising to make good any representation contained in a Gazette advertisement.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

"Tis the coward who quits to a lickin'." "Tis the calf who bawls all the day." "Tis the fool who wins half the battle." Then throws all his chances away. "Life's good things all come through hard pounding." The butter is whipped from the cream; Success is the bride of Endeavor; And Luck but a lazy man's dream. "The time to succeed is when others discouraged show traces of tire." The battle is fought on the home stretch, And won 'tween the flag and the wire. —Exchange.

There is more truth than poetry in the sentiment expressed in this little poem. The noise and the bluster which we make in the little niche we occupy, is often misleading. We may have the appearance of going somewhere, and never arrive, because we lack the staying qualities. Many of us like to travel the dusty highway with the cut-out wide open. Like the new driver of the automobile, we are impressed with the notion that noise means speed, and are never more surprised than when some quiet running car glides by as though we were standing still. A letter came the other day, from a young man who started life a dozen years ago as a "cub" reporter. He had a nose for nerve, and developed ability to write. Half a dozen years ago the American Press Association discovered him and tried him out on a small assignment. He made good, and today has charge of this great news agency in the Mexican campaign, with a chance to go abroad at an early date.

This young man—who passed many associates in the race—possessed an ambition to go to the front, not an uncommon possession, because every young man enjoys it in greater or lesser degree, but coupled with his ambition was a well-defined purpose, and that was to land where he has finally landed, as a representative of the greatest news agency in the world. He had the staying qualities so necessary to success in every calling, and obstacles disappeared like magic.

It is human nature to envy men who succeed. We want the prizes without the planning or the sacrifice. We want money and envy people who have it, and go on spending our income like drunken sailors, and then complain that luck and fortune are against us.

Listen! Every man possessed of health and an ordinary endowment of mental faculties, may acquire a competency for old age, if he will, and the "willing" should come to us as a sacred duty in the first lap of the journey. The great majority of mankind are wage-earners or people with fixed incomes, and it is well for many of us that we live in a land where these incomes are assured. The question of a competency is not a question of earning, but a question of saving, and the question of saving should be an absorbing ambition.

A man died in his old age, a few months ago. His income for twenty-five years had not exceeded six hundred dollars a year, yet he supported his wife comfortably in their little home and left an estate sufficient to care for her in her old age. Not miserly, but thrifty and economical. The nickels were carefully guarded and the dollars took care of themselves. No money spent on society, but little for the church or for charity, yet they had friends who respected them and people envied their ability to save money.

The American Bankers' Association is engaged in a nation-wide campaign on thrift. The argument advanced is that when peace is declared, that the high pressure, under which we are living, will suddenly cease, and the revolution which follows will find many of us stranded unless we adopt and cultivate the saving habit, while incomes are assured.

The spendthrift is the man who spends or squanders his entire income, be it large or small. The miser is the man who hoards every dollar. The man who lives up to his income—whatever it may be—is not thrifty.

This story has taken a different slant from what was intended at the opening, but thrift is such a timely topic that the writer is disposed to give it space. S. W. Straus, the great New York banker, is president of the American Society for Thrift. He delivered an address before the National Educational Association on "The Greater Thrift," a few nights ago, at the Hotel Astor, in which he defined the difference between thrift and simply saving money. Here is his definition of thrift, illustrated, and it is worth reading.

"Saving money is one of the foundation stones in the building of a thrifty character—but it is no more the sum total of thrift than one stone is the sum total in the foundation of a great house. A man may be a money saver, and yet, if he dissipates, or is immoral, he is not thrifty. A man may save money—yet if he works eighteen hours a day, to the detriment of his health, he is not thrifty. True thrift consists in the judicious use of all our mental, material and physical resources, and when we merely save money we have only gone part way. A miser is an undesirable citizen. What, pray, would be the fate of a nation of misers? The wheels of industry are turned by men and women who spend and employ their money wisely and live sanely.

"Perhaps I can more clearly indicate the point I have in mind at this time by telling you a story. Last summer in San Francisco, while conducting the Thrift Congress held by the American Society for Thrift, a lady came to me and said, 'Mr. Straus, you are preaching thrift, but do you personally practice what you preach?' And I replied by asking her if she referred to financial matters or to thrift in health, time and energy. She said, 'I notice you are living at an expensive hotel in this city—and that you are giving away money for essay contests and things of that sort. Now, you must either be a very rich man or a very extravagant one.' And I said, 'If I were a very rich man, or if I were a very poor man, I would be spending any money unwisely, I would be extravagant, but I spend what I can afford for worthy purposes which will result in good to myself and to others. I am not extravagant. Suppose we take a school teacher who is earning $300 a year, and of this sum she saves $400. Would you call her thrifty? Of course you would. Now, suppose this woman is promoted to a principalship and receives $1,200 a year, and spends $600. Would you still call her thrifty? 'Yes,' was the answer.

"Now, suppose this woman is promoted to a superintendency, I continued, 'and receives a salary of $2,500 a year, spending $1,250 and saving $1,250. You would still call her thrifty, although she would now be spending over three times as much as she spent at first. Let us fancy now that she has become more ambitious, opens a private school and earns $10,000 a year. Would she be thrifty if she saved $5,000 and spent $5,000? "

"Yes, she would," was the reply. "Now, let us presume that prosperity continues to smile on her and her school grows to the point where she is earning $40,000 a year. With a changed environment, a broadened viewpoint, and wider opportunities she is able to do much for her family, to donate to charities and to live well on half her income, while the other half, $20,000, she saves. Now, you will admit, will you not, that she is still thrifty, although she is spending exactly fifty times as much money on herself, her family and the community as she spent at first? "

"But if this woman had continued to increase her income and had not increased the amount that she spent, so that when she was earning $40,000 she was only spending $400 a year, what would you call her then? Why, you would call her a miser, of course. Yet there was a time when she lived on $400 a year and you called her thrifty. And as a miser she would be as useless and as undesirable in her citizenship as if she were a spendthrift."

The most of us are obliged to go through life with moderate incomes and all of us can afford to practice thrift. A bank account for a rainy day means independence and self-respect when earning capacities are weakened. It is the sort of a friend which stands by us when we need help.

The author of the little poem had in mind, of course, the miser. He realized that the prices are for the stayers and not for the quitters. Possessed of these staying qualities, success may be won and combined with thrift, destiny is assured.

On the Spur of the Moment

ROY K. MOULTON

THE TWO EXTREMES
Hezekiah was a clinic; nothing ever went just right; Things were always wrong at his place every morning, noon and night.

Pessimism was his hobby and he loved to make complaint. And his peevish mannerisms surely would provoke a saint.

Never missed a chance to worry; said he always was afraid That he would die in the poorhouse and he saved each cent he made.

Never had a moment's pleasure; life was earnest and was real. Always looking for disaster, always ready for a squall.

Always certain that the country was a-go'n' straight to a snail. So he spent his entire lifetime hoarding up the sordid cash.

Obadiah was his neighbor. Always happy, never glum; Always had a funny story, and he loved to make things hum.

Smoked and chewed and had good victuals, never mindful of expense. When a circus reached the village, he'd be sittin' on the fence.

Went to all the funerals regular; he cheered the mourners up a lot; Let his farm work go to tophet and was Johnny-on-the-spot.

Life was nothing but a picnic; that's the way it looked to him; And he got into the spirit of existence with a vim.

Both passed out a long way back and troubles worry neither one. Hezekiah had the money. Obadiah had the fun.

WHAT DO YOU THINK
A very able and talented lecturer, in the midst of a discourse last Sunday in a church, asked: "What is the most pathetic thing in domestic life?"

aroused considerable speculation on the part of at least one in the audience who arrived at a conclusion that, so far as the most pathetic thing in domestic life is concerned, it is a close race between the following:

A pair of broken suspenders.
A whooping cough.
Wife's first biscuits.
A gas meter that will not work.

A child of an afternoon bridge fiend. Lead pencil sharpened by your wife.
Daughter's first singing lesson.
A deserted switch hanging on a nail in the clothes press.
Lawn mower returned by neighbor (if any).
A cold pancake.

Uncle Henry's white vest with a streak of catnip on it.
They didn't ride 'round in limousines. Or big seven passenger gas machines. And when they wanted to put on style they'd ride in a livery rig once in a while.

THE OLD FASHIONED GIRLS
They don't tug out like a jewelry store And wear their bangles and beads galore. And every mornin' night and noon They wasn't lit up like a corner saloon They didn't ride 'round in limousines. Or big seven passenger gas machines. And when they wanted to put on style they'd ride in a livery rig once in a while.

UNHONORED AND UNSUNG
Press agent. Magazine editors. Mr. Charlie Chapman Catt. Bank examiners. Private detectives. Ex-vice presidents. Clarinet players. Bass drummers. American prima donnas. Short-haired professional pianists. Boarding house cooks. Corn doctors.

The Daily Novelette

HANDCUFFED.
Said little George Washington: "No fisherman am I. The cherry tree hath proved to me I cannot tell a lie."

Officer O'Hay was arresting a dangerous criminal, when Oddsden Ends, the riddle fiend, came up from behind and slapped him jovially on the shoulder. The next moment he was landing on his sixty-seventh vertebra eighteen feet away, while Officer O'Hay was lowering his trusty right leg.

"I was only going to ask you a question, officer," explained Oddsden Ends with a pained smile. "I thought you was an accomplice," explained Officer O'Hay.

"What I was going to ask you

$625,000.00

is the amount the "Million Dollar Mystery" cleaned up in eighteen months on an original investment of one hundred thousand.

"The Diamond From the Sky," another popular motion picture, returned to its producers an amount almost equally handsome.

NO! "Anxious Reader," when the promoters of the "Million Dollar Mystery" invested that one hundred thousand dollars they did not expect to get it back, hundred dollars at a time, nor fifty dollars, not even ONE dollar at a time—but they knew how lightly we all esteem a dime and they sat back and raked them in and grew rich.

If dimes and nickels will count up for some people—WHY WON'T THEY FOR YOU?

WE FURNISH, WITHOUT CHARGE, HOME SAVINGS BANKS

to make it convenient to save the Nickles and Dimes. 3% ON DEPOSITS

The Bower City Bank

Janesville, Wisconsin

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

At Janesville, in the State of Wisconsin, at the close of business, June 30, 1916.

RESOURCES.
Loans and discounts	1,016,947.30
Total loans		$1,016,947.30
Overdrafts, unsecured		375.71
U. S. Bonds
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation par value	75,000.00	75,000.00
Total U. S. bonds		75,000.00
Bonds, securities, etc.
Bonds other than U. S. bonds pledged to secure postal savings deposits	12,000.00
Securities other than U. S. bonds (not including stocks) owned unpledged	338,099.56
Total bonds, securities, etc.		350,099.56
Subscription to stock of Federal Reserve Bank	$12,400.00
Less amount unpaid	6,300.00	6,300.00
Value of banking house (if unencumbered)	46,000.00	46,000.00
Furniture and fixtures	9,000.00	9,000.00
Net amount due from Federal Reserve Bank		49,000.00
Net amount due from approved reserve agents in New York, Chicago, and St. Louis	218,932.80
Net amount due from approved reserve agents in other reserve cities	34,338.87	253,271.67
Net amount due from banks and bankers (other than included in 10 or 11)		11,765.81
Other checks on banks in the same city or town as reporting bank		6,714.83
Outside checks and other cash items	1,293.76
Nickels and cents	245.86	1,539.62
Notes of other national banks		3,080.00
Coin and certificates		68,568.36
Legal tender notes		7,023.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer and due from U. S. Treasurer		3,750.00
Total		$1,908,535.85
LIABILITIES
Capital stock paid in		$125,000.00
Surplus fund		85,000.00
Undivided profits	$53,068.80	53,068.80
Less current expenses, interest, and taxes paid	4,944.36	48,124.44
Circulating notes outstanding		71,300.00
Net amount due to banks and bankers		40,988.47
Deposits:
Individual deposits subject to check	586,016.92
Certificates of deposit due in less than 30 days	218,665.99
Certified checks	3,123.20
Cashier's checks outstanding	5,999.26
Postal savings deposits	4,928.12
Deposits requiring notice of less than 30 days		124,588.35
Total demand deposits	943,309.84
Time deposits (payable after 30 days, or subject to 30 days or more notice)		594,833.10
Other time deposits		594,833.10
Total		$1,908,535.85

State of Wisconsin, County of Rock.
I, H. S. HAGGART, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8th day of July, 1916.
Correct—Attest:
JOHN C. REXFORD,
N. CARLE,
V. P. RICHARDSON,
Directors.

LOUIS A. AVERY,
Notary Public.

DAWGUNNIT

The Weather Man's Pup

DON'T LET TH' SUMMER FICTION YOU'RE READING GO TO YOUR HEAD!

ELECTING A PRESIDENT

5

MONROE

Monroe Triumphed Over Rufus King in 1816.

THE Republicans were again victorious in 1816. They nominated James Monroe of Virginia, with Daniel D. Tompkins of New York as his running mate. The Federalists supported Rufus King of New York, but had no candidate for vice president that year. The election took place on Nov. 5, and the vote, counted the following February, was: Monroe, 183; King, 34.

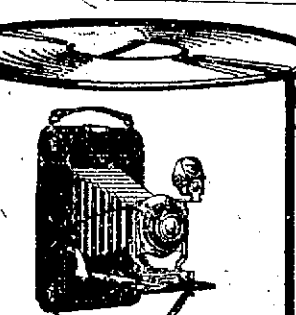

The election of 1820 had but one candidate, Monroe and Tompkins having no opposition. All of the electors chosen in the presidential election except one voted for Monroe. Twenty-three states voted that year, but there is no record of the popular vote.

(Watch for the election of John Quincy Adams in 1824 in our next issue.)

Seasonable Summer Goods

Bathing Caps 25c, 35c, 50c, 60c and 75c.
Bathing Shoes 25c, 50c, 30c and 75c.
Water Wings 25c and 35c.
Straw Hat Cleaner 10c.
Brownie Cameras $1.00 to $12.00.
Kodaks $6.00 to $100.
SPECIAL—Quart Fruit Jars, complete, 5c. While they last.

Smith's Pharmacy
THE REXALL STORE.
Kodaks and Kodak Supplies

Anso CAMERAS

THE superb Anso—best for all scenes, at all times, in all weathers. The amateur camera of professional quality. Priced from $2.00 up. See the various models here. We also have Anso Speedex Film and Cyko Paper.

RED CROSS PHARMACY

Source of Santa Fe River.
To ascertain the exact source of the Santa Fe river in New Mexico, the stream was recently followed to the top of Lake Peñas, 12,480 feet above sea level, where was found a beautiful lake, which is the main supply. The peaks are the rim of the crater of an extinct volcano.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Written and authorized by Alvah Maxfield and to be paid for by him at the rate of 40c per inch.

TO THE VOTERS OF ROCK COUNTY:

ALVAH MAXFIELD
I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination of sheriff on the republican ticket at the September primaries.

ALVAH MAXFIELD
Janesville, Wis.

Rehberg's

Summer Weight Suits

Cool and comfortable as a sea breeze, light and airy as a zephyr, light on your pocketbook, too, $15.00 and $17.50.

Just The Thing For Vacation White Felt Hats

All sizes at 50c. Fancy bands at 25c each.

RIMBOSTWICK & SON
MERCHANTS OF FINE CLOTHES
MAIN STREET & NUMBER SIXTEEN SOUTH

$2.50

Men's and Ladies' Low Shoes

$1.95

Ladies' Low Shoes In Broken Lines

$1.25

Children's Low Shoes

Sizes 8 1-2 to 2

2ND FLOOR 2

Freeport, Ill. Janesville, Wis.

New Method Shoe Parlors

212 Hayes Bldg. Janesville, Wis.

We Want You To Buy Our 1916 Twenty Payment Life Policy

Price at Age 30, $26.81 Per $1,000

All profits earned by our company are paid back to the policy holders in liberal annual dividends.

You have provided liberally for your family during your life-time. Provide for them after your death as liberally by taking enough Life Insurance to give them a living annual income.

C. P. BEERS,

AGENT
2nd Floor Jackman Bldg.

When you think of insurance think of C. P. Beers.

Both Phones.

Homes of Character

Saying so don't make it so!

"Don't say anything you're not able to prove Remember the fate of Munchausen, Ananias Co" Says the Old Philosopher.

When we insist that we sell the highest grade of Master-Craftsman furniture at the lowest consistent price, we are making a statement whose veracity is daily proven in this store.

We want to get your good-will by courteous treatment, by telling a statement whose veracity is daily proven in this store, cover the value of our service to you.

FRANK D.
KIMBALL

MOVED

Hilton & Sadler, the architects have moved their offices to No. 23 West Milwaukee St., 2nd floor, over Pond & Bailey's, where they will be pleased to meet their friends and patrons. The rooms we now occupy are better suited to our work and we are in a position to give our clients even better service than ever before.

See Kennedy for Building Lots

No matter whether you have $100 or several hundred dollars for a building lot I have one that will fit your needs. The lots I have for sale run from $100 to $1700 each. And I can save you money. See me.

J. E. KENNEDY

9 W. Milwaukee St., Sutherland Bldg. Both phones.

JOBS COMPLETED THIS YEAR

Gossard Corset factory, remodeling. Remodeling for Peter Collins, country. Remodeling for H. F. Keller, North High St. Porch for Mr. Grieger, Academy St. Under construction, residence for A. C. Thorpe, Milwaukee Ave. Austin residence and barn for Geo. M. Austin, Terrace and Ravine Sts. Contract signed for residence for Mrs. W. W. Lindsay, Mineral Point Ave. and Palm St.

E. E. VAN POOL

17 NORTH RIVER ST. BOTH PHONES

Selecting the Right Electrical Fixtures

Choosing fixtures that will harmonize with the rest of the house is no easy task. Visit my shop, inspect the fixtures and I am sure we can work together in choosing the right fixtures for your new home.

F. A. ALBRECHT

"A Little Shop Offering Intelligent Service."
Electric Wiring and Fixtures. 58 S. Main St. Both Phones

"ROGERS"

Paints and Varnishes

This famous line of paints and varnishes is your absolute protection for uniformity of quality. Being machine made from time-tried and tested formulas, of chemically pure and uniform raw materials, mixed and ground by powerful machinery, Rogers Paints are dependable and bound to give you satisfaction.

FRANK DOUGLAS

16-17 South River Street.

The Highest Grade of Plumbing

Nothing but the very best plumbing should be considered when you come to build your new home. No other part of the construction of a house requires such skill and judgment as does the plumbing. Our skilled service is yours for the asking.

Let us tell you about our modern plumbing service.

McVICAR BROTHERS

31 So. Main Street. Janesville, Wis. Both Phones.

THE FLY-LESS SCREEN

We are making a Screen Door that will let the flies out of your house or place of business and they can not come in again.

We also equip your old screen door and window frames with our new Fly-less feature.

We do any and a kinds of screen work.

Fifield Lumber Co.

Established 1846.

"Dustless Coal".

Building Materials.

A Dutch Colonial House—By John Henry Newson

Home of Character No. 250

"Homes of Character" No. 142 which was illustrated and described in these columns a few weeks ago has brought many requests for a similar but smaller house from Gazette readers who felt that the house was too large and expensive for their needs. Mr. Newson has developed several modifications of No. 142, one of which, 250, is illustrated today.

In No. 250 the essential features of the original plan are retained, while the exterior is carried out along Dutch colonial lines. The room sizes are somewhat reduced, and a number of minor changes made in the plan. By these changes the cost is reduced to about $6000. The exterior is covered with wide shingles, painted white; the roof shingles are stained green. The entire interior would be most appropriate in white enamel, though various hardwoods in natural finish could be used.

No. 250 is 46x38 feet. Cost $5000 to $6000.

FIRST FLOOR

Don't overlook the fact that as a Gazette reader it is your privilege to consult Mr. Newson concerning any "Home of Character" without charge. Just address your letter, giving the number of the house, to

John Henry Newson
'Homes of Character Dept.,'
The Gazette.

SECOND FLOOR

The Ideal Hot Water Service For The Laundry

The only economical way of heating water for the laundry is to heat it as it flows; and the only convenient way is to "turn the faucet" without any further trouble.

The Automatic Gas Water Heater

provides this economy and convenience, together with the luxury of unlimited hot water at every hot water faucet throughout the house. You simply turn the faucet.

See demonstration at our showroom or send a representative.

New Gas Light Co. of Janesville

7 North Main St.

Both Phones 113.

Special Vacuum Cleaner Bargain You Save $5.50

We make this special offer until Wednesday, July 12th. You save exactly $5.50 on a Vacuum Cleaner purchase made here on or before the above date.

LET US FIGURE ON YOUR HOUSE WIRING

Janesville Contracting Company

Office At Electric Co.

Sanitary, Modern Plumbing

Don't be satisfied with anything short of expert work when it comes to installing the plumbing in your home. Our men are all experts and our knowledge and suggestions can be depended on.

GEORGE & CLEMONS

Plumbing, Gas and Steam Fitting.
407 West Milwaukee Street.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HOME with

Whittall Rugs

Carpets, Linoleums, Draperies
The House of a Thousand Room Size Rugs

Beautifying the Grounds

That's an important point and one that should not be overlooked. There's nothing makes a city more attractive than beautiful homes and well kept grounds. Our landscape department will cheerfully solve the problem of beautifying your grounds.

JANESVILLE FLORAL CO.

50 South Main St. Edw. Amerpohl, Prop. Both Phones.

MOVED

E. H. PELTON

is now located at

17 Court St.

Near the bridge.

All kinds of tin and sheet metal work. Prompt attention to repairs. Guaranteed work.

Consult Building Headquarters Before You Build

We can supply you with plans and specifications of modern houses and bungalows besides furnishing the entire material with which to build from the cellar to the shingles on the roof.

We'd be glad to show you house plans when you call at this office.

Schaller & McKey Lumber Co.

Corner Milwaukee and Pleasant Sts.

Both Phones, 100.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Anyway, Father Isn't Worried Any.

BY F. LEIPZIGER

THE NEW CLARION

By...
WILL N. HARBEN

Copyright, 1914, by Harper & Brothers

"I don't know as the argument will hold good," Pole said, "fer gittin' soaked with whisky has the same effect. An' if the Lord instigates a prolonged spree he must leave you to the devil's care when you are comin' out of it."

"Well, it ain't no jokin' matter," Abner spoke. "I've been doin' this, an' in my judgment it is my own affair. If I like to be out under God's sky at certain stated times more'n I want to stay under a roof—well, that's just the way I happen to feel about it."

"I really hadn't been here much lately," Abner's glance rested on the leaping flames. "In fact, not since I tucked hold o' that paper; but, to tell you the truth, I'm so bothered—so broke up over Howard's trouble—that I just had to get off to myself."

"That's what I was lookin' fer you about," Pole said eagerly. "I hadn't been in to see you because I was at the end o' my rope, an' hated to admit it. I've been told that I'd make a pretty good detective, an' I've always thought I did have a sort o' turn that way. So when I settled it in my mind that Howard was innocent I 'lowed I'd only have to look about a little to locate the right party, but the more I looked the further I was from any kind o' conclusion."

"My case exactly—'plink blank!' Abner chimed in disconsolately. "An' I never was so much put out in my life over anything."

"Howard's mighty high give up," Abner sighed. "Billy Barnett, who is by long odds the best lawyer in north Georgia, is workin' like a wheel horse, but even he can't hold out much hope. He keeps sayin' we must find the man, but what's the use? You know, an' I know, Pole, that no bloody murderer is goin' to give hisse'f up to the scaffold when all he's got to do is to lie low an' let another feller suffer in his place. I know you are a good un to ferret out things, an' I've been countin' on you."

"I've been tryin'," Pole answered. "The first thing I did was to cross my heart and take a solemn oath that not one drop o' liquor 'ud pass my lips till some' was done fer Howard that was worth while. I followed a blind trail, Craig—between me 'n' you—was hated by two or three young women, an' at last I 'lowed that maybe one o' them or the other had done the job, but I searched 'em all out, looked 'em in the face an' knowed I was on the wrong cent."

"Then you throwed it up," Abner's tone was almost one of open rebuke. "You throwed it up?"

"No, I didn't—that is, not entirely," Pole said, leveling his stare anew on Abner's dejected face. "At least I wanted to see you an' talk over a fresh line. Say, Uncle Ab, it is a ticklish sort o' job when you ain't got nothin' to go by but what you might call suspicion, an' then not be sure that you ain't thinkin' a thing may be so because you are so anxious to carry your point."

CHAPTER XXI.

Suspicious.

NOW, the matter is like this," continued Pole, "an' I want you to think hard on it. fer I'm all balled up an' hardly know what I believe an' what I don't believe. Now, in the first place, it is impossible to even start on a hunt like this unless you have some little thing or some particular person to aim at. Now, I've got this much to start on, an' it is all I have got. The Lord knows it is small enough when you realize that you may be suspicionin' an innocent man an' one without a dollar to defend hisse'f with. You remember the day Howard an' Craig met in town an' had that row? Well, that mornin', just as Craig was startin' off to town, I happened to be in Trumbley's place o' woodland on the slope overlookin' Craig's farm. I was up ther to see about some trees I'd agreed to cut down and stack up in cords fer Trumbley's winter supply. Well, I seed Craig leave his boss at the barn an' walk across his field to whar Abe Fulton was makin' a wire fence fer 'im. The truth is, I tuck no particular notice o' 'em, an' the distance was so great that I couldn't see the faces, nor hear what was said, but somehow it struck me at the time that they was havin' words."

"Whether it was the motions or looks or what I don't know, but, anyways, I remember that the first thought that popped into my head after Craig's mixup with Howard was that Craig had quarreled with Abe an' that was one reason he was so ready to pounce on somebody else. But I didn't let the thing weigh much with me at the time, fer, you see, I was followin' the other scout, but after that failed I tuck up the other an' tried to see if I could connect Abe with the killin'."

"An' did you—did you, that's the question?" Abner's lower lip was quivering under tense suspense. His bushy brows had met.

"I don't know, Uncle Ab; as God is my final judge, I don't," Pole returned. "An' that's why I've come to you. All I could do was this: I went by Craig's field an' seed that the fence wasn't finished, but I couldn't say that meant anything, fer I couldn't say that any sensible person would keep on workin' for a dead man without knowin' who was his boss, anyway."

"No, of course not," Abner agreed. "Was that all?"

"No, not quite. I next set out to look fer Abe. I seed 'im in a bunch o' loafers at the cotton compress, whar jobs by the hour was give out fer truckin' an' loadin' an' the like. I knowed most o' 'em, an' the like Abe set on a bale o' cotton whittin' a stick an' sayin' nothin'. I noticed that he wouldn't laugh much along with the balance, but when I came to think of it I couldn't remember ever seein' the cuss smile or pass a joke now, an' so, you see, I couldn't go by that. I studied 'im a good hour. I got the crowd to talk about the murder once, an' I watched Abe, but I couldn't notice that he acted any way different from the rest. He just set with his feet crossed an' the brim o' his hat over his eyes an' trimmed straight in front o' 'im."

"I see, I see," Abner nodded, thoughtfully.

"I set about in a sly, underhand way among folks that had knowed Abe a long time, to see if he'd ever been in any difficulties. Now, here comes the only place I've found worth considerin' an' I want your opinion. Ten years ago, when Abe lived over the mountain, he was arrested an' tried fer a year. The feller who he mighty nearly killed owned a little sawmill whar Abe was workin', an' one day at log rollin' the sawmill man got mad at Abe fer some blunder or other an' kicked 'im like a dog in the presence o' all the rest. Now, watch close, Uncle Ab. Witnesses said on oath at the trial that Abe tuck his kickin' without a word. He rolled logs on the rest o' the day an' drew his pay; but that night evidence showed that he layd in the sawmill man, beat 'im over the head with a hickory club an' left 'im unconscious in the road."

"It is some'n' anyway," Abner answered interestedly. "Let's go yonder, have a chew and plan this thing further," Abner continued.

One sultry evening at dusk, as Abner sat talking to Mary about Howard in the front yard, Abe Fulton trudged along past the gate, a small bag of flour on his shoulder. He did not look toward them, but kept his eyes on the dusty road. Seeing that Mary was looking at the man, Abner remarked casually:

"That feller looks like he is purty hard up. He had a regular job workin' fer Craig, but that's all off now, of course."

"I'm sorry for his wife," Mary said listlessly. "I don't believe the poor creature gets enough to eat half the time, and as for clothes, she is a pitiful sight. I've heard that she is constantly complainin'."

At this instant Mrs. Trumbley called Mary into the house, and Abner was left alone. Going to the gate, he looked after the disappearing figure he had just noted; then he glanced back into the house. "Might as well now as later," he mused. "Time is valuable, an' after all Pole may be away off the track. Twenty men could 'a' done the thing as well as this un."

Taking a cautious look into the house, Abner slipped around the corner and went down the path to the stable. Opening the door of a stall containing his favorite horse, he took the animal by the forelock and led it across the lot to a gate, which he opened. Then, raising his hands threateningly, he drove the horse through, watching it as it galloped off into the woods. Then going to a wagon sled near by Abner took a bridle from a row of saddles and halters, and with it on his arm he passed through the gate and started down the road, the leather reins dragging in the dust at his side. Half a mile farther on he turned aside into the wood and waited through the twilight till he saw a gleam of fire through the trees and knew it was from the cabin occupied by Abe Fulton and his wife. Here Abner began to walk more slowly, and as he moved toward the light he whistled loudly after the manner of farmers calling their horses. Presently he emerged from the low, scattering bushes immediately in front of the cabin. Mrs. Fulton came to the door, her hands white with some dough she was mixing.

"Lost yo' boss, Mr. Daniel?" she asked as she recognized him and noticed the bridle in his hand.

"Yes, have you seed 'im?" Abner came closer. "He's the very devil to slip a halter when he's hitched to a post. He'll run the trick somehow, an' I ain't never broke 'im of it."

"No, I ain't noticed a loose boss o' any sort," the woman answered. "Maybe Abe has; he's just come from town. Say, Abe"—she turned to look into the cabin—"have you seed anything o' Mr. Daniel's boss?"

There was no immediate answer, but a crunching tread came from within, and Abe slouched forward into the doorway. Abner remarked a certain restless stare in the man's eyes and fancied that he saw a hunted look of despair in the almost brutal face.

"No, I ain't seen no boss," Abe said. "Excuse me; I smell my bacon a-burnin'." Mrs. Fulton exclaimed suddenly, "Abe, give Mr. Daniel a chair. I'll bet he's tired."

Abe went into the cabin and brought out a crude, splint bottomed chair, and when Abner had taken it Abe sat down on a wash bench near by.

"Yes, I think it is the indoor work that does me up, Abe," Abner went on glibly. "A feller that's lived on a farm all his life makes a poor out at a job like my new one. I acted the plumb fool when I put good money in that plant. But you know, of course, that I was countin' on Howard Trumbley to run it fer me; but, in me, considerin' the plumb the boy's got hisse'f in that's all off, an' I've got the bag to hold, green as I am."

The man tapped the toe of his ragged shoe with the battling stick. He swallowed, glanced furtively at Abner and cleared his throat. Presently, with a wavering glance, he jerked out:

"Well come out all right."

"Dumpty! I say," Abner sniffed. "What makes you think that, Abe?" "Oh, because fellers like him always come clear," Howard's got industrial kin, an' he stands at the top. The courts are a sort o' joke an' so is the general run o' judges. A feller jest has to have a little pull in politics, a few dollars behind 'im an' wear good clothes to git out o' anything."

"I wish you was right; I really do," Abner answered. "You ain't as old as I am by a long sight, Abe." Abner's tone had never been so confidential and friendly. "You ain't seed as much o' lawin'." Billy Barnett, as you may know, is as keen a practitioner as the state has got. I've retained him, an' he's workin' with might an' main on the case, but him nor me nor all the law in the world can't do a thing as long as Howard holds out as he is doin'."

"Holds out?" For the first time the glance of the small eyes sought Abner's inquiringly. "What do you mean by holdin' out?"

Abner seemed to hesitate, and when he finally spoke it was as if he had decided that he might fall deeper into confidence with a man whom he trusted.

"Why, Abe, just between you an' me, I'm afraid that the boy's bullheaded stubbornness is goin' to block all our efforts in his behalf. You know the law well enough. All of us know the law well enough to know that the courts are lenient when a man comes right out an' admits that he done a wrong thing. I'm talkin' to you now as a friend an' a neighbor. In fact, I've heard Howard say lots o' nice things about you an' your wife, an' I know you are interested in his welfare, an' will hate to hear how he is actin'. But the truth is—the sad truth is—that he won't listen to reason. Talk as we will, the boy sticks to his plan o' claimin' that he knows nothin' at all about the shootin'."

"Well, maybe he don't!" burst impulsively from the man on the bench. "A feller ain't guilty till he's proved guilty."

Abner's eyes gleamed. "I'm glad to hear you stand up fer 'im, anyway, Abe." Abner went on suavely: "but, nevertheless, I wouldn't like fer you to talk to him on that line. That's too much evidence agin' 'im." "Yes, I have—that is, I've heard folks talk. I know all they are sayin'. I—I don't blame Howard. He—he'd be a fool to say he done it unless—unless he done it, no matter what you an' Barnett advise. Life's too short. Huh, ef Howard claims he didn't do it, maybe he didn't. He's always treated me fair. The boy lent me some money once when I couldn't git it from anybody else."

"Oh, yes, Howard has a big heart in 'im, an' this is killin' 'im. You only have to think about it, Abe, to see how humiliated he must be. He was jest gittin' a firm rootin' in this new line. The papers all over the state was talkin' about him an' his work. Darley is right now gittin' on a boom which Howard set afoot. A new railroad is comin', a site has been selected an' bought in the edge o' town fer a cotton mill with thousands of spindles that will give employment to mountain folks fer miles around. But right in the middle of it the silly boy lets his hot temper git the best of 'im. He has a few words with a feller that nobody liked an' then waylays 'im an' shoots 'im dead in his tracks, an', of course—well, he'll have to take his medicine, that's all."

"I don't believe Howard done it!" Fulton blurted. "Because you say he says he didn't."

"What you believe don't settle the matter," Abner said, as if contemptuous of an opinion which seemed so ill grounded. "Howard can't prove nothin' at all to offset the evidence piling up mountain high agin' 'im. Lawyers, judges an' experts generally are laughin' at his stupidity in holdin' out like he is doin'. You ain't entirely alone in your opinion, Abe; that's his mammy. You'd hardly expect that broken hearted woman to doubt the word of her only child, an' I wouldn't talk as free with her as I have to you. Ef she sees fit to believe Howard's cock an' bull yarn about sleepin' on that mountain all the rest he made up—well, that's her right. Then that is an other one that won't listen to reason nuther, an' that is Mary Trumbley. I don't know fer sure, but I imagine if this calamity hadn't fallen them two would 'a' hit it off together. La, Abe, that's pitiful! I think sometimes of she'd jest fine me an' Billy in advisin' Howard to tell the whole truth; that he might be influenced to own up before it is too late."

"He'd be a fool to do it," Abe muttered.

"Well, have it your way," Abner sighed. "After all, Abe, Craig was an overbearin' man, wasn't he? You done some work fer 'im now an' then an' ort to know as to that. I remember seein' you about his place. Ef he was as bad as folks say you'd know it, I reckon?"

"He was a devil on human legs," Abe's eyes were flashing indignantly. "He deceived several young gals that I knowed. One was a first cousin o' mine, a pore orphan, with nobody to take her part. He got 'er love some way, an' after he'd left 'er high an' dry fer another gal, she used to hang around the woods tryin' to see the skunk. She broke down an' told me all about it. Oh, I knowed 'im!"

(To be continued.)

Can Find Time to Do Things.

It is the idle who complain they cannot find time to do that which they fancy they wish. In truth, people can generally make time for what they choose to do; it is not really the time, but the will that is wanting.—Sir John Lubbock.

Pat was brought before the magistrate by Patrolman O'Holleran. "What is the charge against this man, officer?" asked the magistrate. "Openin' a saloon at 3 o'clock in the morning, yer honor," replied the cop.

"Where is his saloon?" continued the magistrate. "He ain't got no saloon, yer honor. It was Casey's saloon he was openin'—with a jimmy."

After saying his prayers at night the seven-year-old son of parents in Larchmont announced that he was so tired of the kind of life he was compelled to lead that he believed there was nothing for it but for him to run away. The father considered the matter thoughtfully and then said: "George, if that is the way you feel, there is money in my purse here, you may take it all."

The boy packed his grip, got to the front door, came back on the ground of having forgotten his tooth brush, and went downstairs again. The parents were much disturbed to know what he would do. He opened the front door, went out on the veranda, and all was silence. The father and mother looked at each other, but thought the course they had adopted the best, and hence did not make a move.

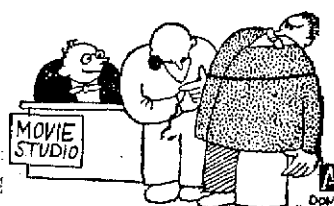

After fifteen minutes of intense anxiety the door opened and a boy's voice called out: "Say, dad, if I'm going away alone I'd better take mother along, don't you think?"

Everyday Wisdom

By DON HEROLD

WELL, THEN HIRE HIM.

HE HAS A FINE EXPANSION.

MOVIE ACTORS WHO PANT. We have never been up at sunrise but once. And we don't ordinarily go in for shooting, especially human shooting. But we would like something to attend a shooting at sunrise of all moving-picture actors who pant.

Why do they pant? Where do they get that? Every time they get a letter they stand and pant. Then we are shown a close-up of them panting some more. Pulmotors for movie actors! Then they put the letter into the table drawer or into their bosom, and at the very sight of each other, they both begin to pant like a couple of suffocated fish.

We could stand the hero's curly hair and his Norfolk coat or his sport shirt open on his lily neck—if he would stay off of the pant as his favorite emotion. We could stand the vampire's broad arm and her paper-on-the-wall petticoats, if she only wouldn't pant.

Who will take the pants out of moving pictures?

(Protected by George Matthew Adams)

Great Family of Smiths.

In England and Wales there are approximately eight hundred bearers of any one surname on an average. The Smiths alone number more than 400,000, or 500 times as many. The great family can boast of more men of distinction who have helped to make the empire what it is than the bearers of any other name.

Insurance a Luxury.

To an old dandy, haled before him, a southern judge put this question: "Why did you burn your house down just after getting it insured?" Whereupon the dandy replied: "Yo' honah, a pore man like me can't afford to have a house and insurance, too."—Cuse and Comment.

I'LL SNEAK UP BEHIND UNCLE BILL AND PULL HIS HAIR!

AND HE DID.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

You have swollen feet and hands! Stiff, aching joints! Sharp-shooting, rheumatic pains torture you. You have aching back, pain in the lower abdomen, difficulty when urinating! Look out! These are danger signals. Trouble is with your kidneys. Uric acid poisoning in one form or another, has set in. It may lead to dropsy or fatal Bright's disease if not checked.

Get some GOLD MEDAL Haaslem Oil Capsules immediately. They are an old preparation, used all over the world for centuries, combining natural healing oil and herbs, well-known to physicians and used by thousands in their daily practice. The Capsules are not an experimental, make-shift "patent medicine," or "salt," whose effect is only temporary. They are a standard remedy, and act naturally, gently and quickly. But when you go to the druggist, insist on getting the pure, original Haaslem Oil in Capsules. Be sure the name GOLD MEDAL is on the box, and thus protect yourself against counterfeits.

THE IDEA! Mrs. Jay I wish you'd stop asking me that question. I've been telling you for the last hour that I'd be ready in a minute.

Australians Fond of Sugar.

The Australian commonwealth has the sweetest tooth of all the countries in the world, its annual per-capita consumption of sugar being 109 pounds.

Brief Bliss.

Mother—"Why didn't you prevent him from kissing you? Why didn't you call me? (Reflectively) But I suppose it was all over too soon." Daughter (with a far-away look)—"Yes, mamma, it was all over too soon."—Boston Transcript.

Through Sleeping Car Service Chicago to Springfield and Columbus, Ohio

Big Four Route

Leave Chicago 10:05 p. m. Ar. Springfield 6:40 a. m. Ar. Columbus 7:45 a. m.

Through sleeping cars and coaches, Chicago to Columbus. Apply to your local ticket agent for tickets and sleeping car reservations or for complete information address E. R. WHELEN, General Agent Passenger Department, 78 West Adams Street, CHICAGO, ILL.

COME Cruise Through Wonderland!

5-Day Lake Trip $27.50

GOODRICH "SOO" CRUISE

3-DAY OUTING $20.00

GOODRICH-MACKINAC CRUISE

800 miles of Nature's smiles along the Illinois-Wisconsin Shore line. Green Bay's scenic maze to Mackinac Island. RESORT BOOK FREE—A postcard brings it.

Gen. A. Jacobs, Local Agent, 13 W. Milwaukee, St. Janesville, Wis.

GOODRICH STEAMSHIP LINES

Typewriter Papers—

We have on hand a special lot of typewriter papers which we offer at the following prices as long as the stock lasts:

Talisman Linen, size 8 1/2 x 11 $1.00 per box of 500 sheets

Talisman Linen, size 8 1/2 x 13 $1.25 per box of 500 sheets

Linene Bond, size 8 1/2 x 13 $1.25 per box of 500 sheets

The paper is packed 500 sheets to a box and compares very favorably with the highest grades, with a saving of from 25 to 50 per cent. Samples will be furnished upon request.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

Printing Department

Bell Phone 774 Rock Co. Phone 27

PETEY DINK—BETTER PRACTICE FIRST WITH GRAPEFRUIT OR SOMETHING.

SPORTS

POOR BASE RUNNING DEFEATS SOX, 4 TO 3

Yanks Win After Twelve Innings, But Get Only Third as Many Hits as the White Sox.

The Sox beat themselves again yesterday. Smiling, base running contrasted with their bitter fight against the Yanks was responsible. At that it took twelve innings for the league leaders to win. The score was 4 to 3.

Elmer Wolfgang went along in fine style until the eighth, when Jim Scott was called. McGraw went the route for New York, and at times was as wild as a pea in a tin in a tropical hurricane. After the home team had pounded around a couple of rallies in the fifth, the Sox, in their half, opened a rally that was stopped only by their bad base work. Again in the eighth they had a bunch of chances to score, but lost with more funny business. They had tied the count in this inning. The game went along until the twelfth when the Sox scored. The crowd was leaving when Muller, a Sox castoff and at present New York bench warmer, was sent in the pinch and delivered. Magee had led off with an infield hit, and had handed to Weaver and Gedeon had succeeded. Nunnaker had a two and three count on him when Scott sent a curve right over the plate a little below the waist. It was called a ball and the Chicago players, Mullen, with two bases occupied, slammed the first ball pitched to deep left. It struck a hard piece of earth and bounced to the fence as Magee and Nunnaker raced home.

ODD FELLOW BOWLERS DEFEAT DYE WORKERS

Two bowling teams braved the hot weather last night and engaged in a match game at the Miller alleys. The L. O. F. Five won from the Jones Dye Works by a good margin. Thursday night the lodge team won from Bodie's Colts by a score of 2,530 to 2,177. Following are the scores of last evening's L. O. F.

Chase	129	149	144
Miller	191	125	189
Mathews	120	119	129
Gower	141	134	141
Mertick	135	138	138
Jones Dye Works	716	734	741—2191
Little	143	133	110
Treflow	139	187	165
Blumrey	106	135	143
Orto	145	144	160
Podewell	116	113	136
	543	727	714—2054

PLANK BEATS JOHNSON; BROWNS BLANK WASHINGTON

Eddie Plank, the veteran southpaw, outpitched Walter Johnson at Washington today, and the Browns won, 5 to 0. Johnson had no support behind him to mention, the Senators having five errors charged against them. Williams and Almsmith were the worst offenders, and the game was really lost through their blunders.

ALEXANDER LOSES JINX; SHUTS OUT CARDINALS, 1-0

Alexander's losing streak of three defeats was broken yesterday when Philadelphia defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 1 to 0. The winning run for the Phillies came in the second, when Bancroft beat out a slow roller to first and advanced to second after Smith had made a wild throw of Kilmer's fly. Paskert singled to the center garden, scoring the run. Meadows and Jasper opposed Alexander.

ROCKFORD YOUTHS TAKE CANOE TRIP DOWN ROCK

Nine members of the Teakumka Canoe club of Rockford, in four canoes, were in Janesville for several hours Friday morning, en route for their home in Rockford. Leaving left the Capital City Wednesday morning and they camped up the river at night. They expected to reach Rockford Sunday night. Their canoes were shipped from their home to Madison by train.

The idea prevailed that Lee Pohl, manager of the Cleveland Indians, had never been in the big leagues as a player, but this is not strictly the case, says Lee. There are some respects in which he played in fast company or at any rate he caught a while for the Cincinnati Reds back in 1903.

STRAW HATS

$1.00 to $3.00
Panamas $5.00

F. ZIEGLER CLOTHING CO.

JOS. M. CONNORS, Mgr.

Specialists of Good Clothes and Nothing Else. The Home of John B. Stetson Hats, Wilson Shirts, Lewis Underwear, Mallory Cravenned Hats, Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes.

CHARLES DEAL STARS IN THE ASSOCIATION

Charlie Deal.

After an unsuccessful try-out with the St. Louis Browns this spring Charlie Deal was shipped to Kansas City in the Association, where he's having the time of his life. Charlie is hitting over .360 and helping Danny Shay's Blues a lot in their wonderful race for the flag.

Joe has fussed around a lot and made lots of changes with a little improvement but hardly what one had been led to expect from Joe's early season exclamations.

ROCKFORD HAS THREE PITCHERS FOR CARDS

Maroon Team Coming Well Loaded to Hold Down Card Batemen—Wootton to Oppose Them.

The Rockford Maroons are taking no chances on the ability of Cardinal batsmen tomorrow in the game at Driving Park. They are going to bring along a trio that they can depend upon, according to the announcement their manager made to Manager Gaidow this morning. The following line-up to start tomorrow: Helgesman, c; Wootton, p; Nelson, 1b; Blake, 2b; Ryan, ss; Reish, ss; Moss, 3b; Ripley, c; Chamberlain, rf. The Maroon line-up is: Peterson, rf; Kennedy, 3b; Norene, c; Houck, 1b; Nelson, 1b; Phelan, ss; Peterson, 2b; Ross, c; Ackerson, Carlson and Margi.

Jack Wootton is just as confident as the Forest City bunch and so are the visitors are no mean opponents. Manager Gaidow announced the following line-up to start tomorrow: Helgesman, c; Wootton, p; Nelson, 1b; Blake, 2b; Ryan, ss; Reish, ss; Moss, 3b; Ripley, c; Chamberlain, rf. The Maroon line-up is: Peterson, rf; Kennedy, 3b; Norene, c; Houck, 1b; Nelson, 1b; Phelan, ss; Peterson, 2b; Ross, c; Ackerson, Carlson and Margi.

Will do the wild west horse stunts before the grand stand previous to the game, have a string of animals which they say are world beaters when it comes to riding. This exhibition will start about half an hour before the game.

WHO IS THE PITCHER WITH THE MOST SPEED? JOHNSON, BUSH AND MORTON ALL HAVE GREAT STEAM AND KNOW HOW TO USE IT

Left to right: Walter Johnson, Joe Bush and Guy Morton.

With the passing of "Smoky Joe" Wood there has been talk among ball fans as to who is the speediest twirler of the present day. Aside from Walter Johnson, the king of them all, Joe Bush and Guy Morton are thought to have the lead. Bush and Morton are known to have great steam and, like Walter Johnson, are able to apply it effectively through the use of excellent control.

Sport Snap Shots MORRIS MILLER

The New York Giants look like one of the most remarkable freak teams of many seasons. They started out in the spring and looked like the most disheartening crew Gotham fans had seen for a long while. Their play would have been funny if it hadn't been so depressing. Then they went out on the road and won seventeen straight games with every town around the circuit exclaiming over their brilliant performances. Sport pages all through the country were boosting them and then just as suddenly they began to lose game after game and no one seems to know why. They are playing good ball. They played eight extra-inning games after their return and lost every one of them. It may be that a jinx camps on their trail for the nonce, but their behavior has certainly been queer.

George Sissler, the gifted St. Louis Brown, seems to be one of the most versatile players who has ever entered the game. He is able to hit the ball at most any season, fields beautifully in the outfield or at first and can work in the box with great success whenever needed. Everyone knows that George is clever in this way, but recently in a series against the White Sox he showed all he was able to do in every department. Many there are who opine that George is the best thing that has come from the American league since Ty Cobb's arrival.

When Jimmy Callahan first took charge of the Pittsburgh Pirates he knew hardly a player on the team and tried to make things start pleasantly by being a good fellow and showing everyone the joyful mitt. But in everyone the boys thought seems like some of the boys thought Cal was soft and could walk up and down and all over him, so he's decided to be a bit more stern henceforth. He figures he'll abandon the kind words and gentle deeds and bark up hereafter more severely. The kind and gentle discipline works fine for a kindergarten all right, but a ball club is something else.

One reason why the Giants were not hitting well at home, said Joan McGraw, was so long ago what the shadow from the stands at the Polo grounds makes the ball very hard to see. And about the same day or one following the Cubs pounded John's pitchers for something like eighteen swats.

Everyone in Gotham seems to think that the Yanks are the best crew they have had in the American league for many seasons. It would appear that there has not been so fair a chance of the American league bunting being displayed to the breeze in New York for some while. No one comes right out and says that the Yanks have the rag on ice, but they have a real good look-in and from their behavior to date they mean to maintain it.

Dave Fultz of the ball players' fraternity is making a tour of the minor league towns exhorting bush league players to stick up for themselves and beware the unholly avarice of all club owners and managers. From what one hears ever and anon there's going to be some hot stuff pulled when the managers and club owners try to cut down ball players' salaries, as they are believed to be planning. With the feds out of the way, players can't be quite so independent and club owners seem to have them—curse them—somewhat in their power.

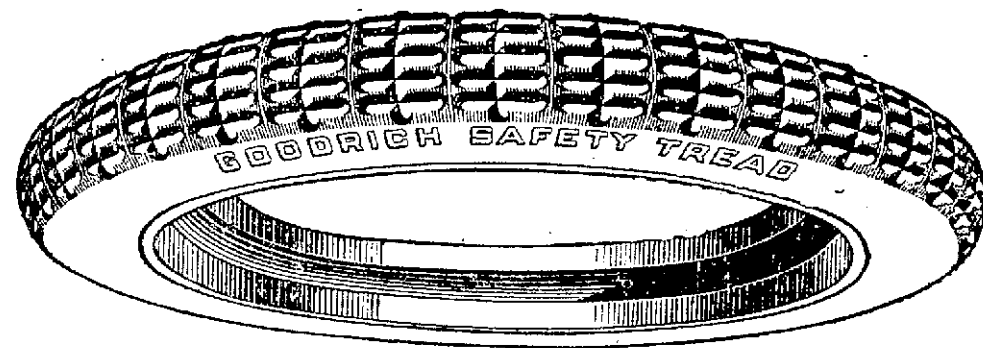

A Friend of Humanity.

Knioker—"Has Smith's car made him popular?" Bocker—"Those he takes out sue him for damages and the rest sue him for breach of contract."

Surest Thing You Know.
The greatest bore upon this earth—the biggest nuisance known—is he who talks about himself and his small affairs alone, when you think he ought to listen while you talk about your own.

Insanity.
Insanity is rapidly increasing in every civilized country, owing probably to the rapid pace at which people are living. The speed of life deranges the nervous system and as a final result madness ensues.

As Heard in Butte.
Weary Mike (at the telephone)—"Say, kin I talk to Mr. McAfee?" Central—"What is his number, please?" Weary Mike—"Wot! Is he pinched again?"—Mountain States Monitor.

Three Million Auto Tires made— —by GOODRICH, in year 1915

STUDY the Price-List publicly printed below. Compare with the List-Prices of other Tires made in LESSER Volume. Observe that competing Prices are higher in almost the exact proportion that VOLUME of production is smaller. This, when Quality approaches the Goodrich Standard. Cut our 1915 Tire Output (of 3,000,000 Auto and Truck Tires) to One-third, and it would still far exceed the Average of all Competing Makes or Brands. But, that huge reduction in Volume MIGHT result in every Tire we made costing you One-third MORE than present prices. They would not,—and could not,—be BETTER Tires, at this necessarily higher-cost to us, and higher-price to you. Because,—Goodrich Tires are not made "up to a price,"—nor "down to a price."

WE, first of all, make the BEST Fabric Tires that our 47-year Experience in Rubber-Working,—our huge Purchasing-Power, and the most Advanced Equipment, renders possible. Then we let Cost fall where it will. To that Cost we add a moderate, and fair, Profit for Ourselves and for our Dealers. Then we let VOLUME rise,—as it will. The more Tires we Make, the LESS each Tire COSTS us to produce,—and the less it costs YOU to buy them. The more Tires we Sell, the less profit, per Tire, WE NEED, for dividends. The more Tires we make, the better we KNOW HOW to make them,—the more we have at Stake on Quality,—and Satisfaction to Consumers. And,—because of all this,—The BEST Fabric Tires that Skill,—Experience,—Good-Faith, and Maximum Volume, can build,—are now available to YOU at the VERY MODERATE Fair-List Prices here quoted. Why pay more for ANY Fabric Tire?

THE B. F. GOODRICH CO., Akron, O.

Goodrich "Fair-List" Prices

NOTICE.—These Tires are as perfect as Fabric Tires can be made. But, should any dissatisfaction whatever arise, with any Goodrich Tire, its Owner is invited, and REQUESTED, to take the matter up promptly with us,—the Makers. He will find that Fair, Square, and LIBERAL treatment will always be extended, on all proper adjustments.

THE B. F. GOODRICH CO., Akron, O.

30 x 3	Ford Sizes	$10.40	34 x 4		$22.40
30 x 3½	(Safety-Treads)	$13.40	35 x 4½	(Safety-Treads)	$31.20
32 x 3½		$15.45	36 x 4½		$31.60
33 x 4		$22.00	37 x 5		$37.35

GOODRICH Black "Barefoot" TIRES

"TEXTAN"—Does for your SHOE Soles what black "Barefoot-Rubber" does for Goodrich Tire Soles.

—Wears longer than Leather! —Is Non-slippery! —Is more Flexible than Leather!
—Is Waterproof! —Is Lighter than Leather! —Is EASIER on your Feet!

Ask your Shoe Dealer, or Shoe Repairer, for Textan Soles on your next pair of Shoes.

A. A. RUSSELL & CO., AGENTS FOR GOODRICH TIRES
27-29 S. Bluff St. Both Phones

July Clearance Sale

36 inch Crepe du Cheine Silks, all shades, excellent $1.25 values, now on sale, yd. .... 98c	36 inch Colored Taffeta Silks, mostly all colors, usual $1.50 values, now at per yd. .... $1.23
36 inch Black Taffeta Silk, excellent weight and a bargain at $1.25, offered in this sale, at per yard $1.09	$1.25 and $1.50 values in Tub Silks, light or medium colors, all good patterns now reduced to yd. $1.09

OUR JULY CLEARANCE SALE BEGINS HERE MONDAY, JULY 10th

and continues for the balance of the month. It will be the most important July Clearing Sale in the history of the store. Small Lots, Short Lines, Odd sizes and broken assortments, etc., etc. All now will feel the keen knife of "PRICE REDUCTION". You can attend this sale and on every purchase realize a saving of many "Dollars and Cents". All goods here advertised will be shown prominently in the store with the price tickets attached, showing you the avenues of the many "MONEY SAVING BARGAINS."

T. P. BURNS COMPANY
WE SAVE YOU DOLLARS AND CENTS

36 in. Fancy Stripe Taffetas and Messalines for waists or dresses, values to $1.75 in this assortment now reduced to per yd. .... $1.38	27 inch Half Wool Challies in light or medium colors, desirable for waists, dresses or children's wear, now reduced to per yd. .... 28c
WASH GOODS. 25c value fancy stripe Poplins for dresses or skirts, now reduced to per yd. .... 19c	27 inch Dress Gingham in stripes, checks, or plain colors, now reduced in price, yd. at 10c, 12 1/2c and 14c

July Clearance Sale

36 inch Stripe Sport Shirts, pink, green, or black, 35c values, now yd. at .... 25c	27 inch Galatea Cloth for boys' suits, etc., usual 20c value, reduced to per yd. .... 15c
40 inch fancy figured Voiles in floral or striped effects, values in this lot worth to 40c, reduced to per yd. .... 25c	1000 yards C. T. M. Curtain Swisses in white, neat, small effects, values to 15c now yd. .... 10c
64 inch Bleached Mercerized Table Damask, big value at 59c, now reduced to yd. .... 45c	17 inch Linen Weft Crash Toweling, with red or blue border, 12 1/2c value, now yd. at .... 10c
25 doz. Bleached Turkish Towels, very special at this sale, each at .... 9c	70 inch Pure Linen Table Damask, any $1.25 value during this sale, now yd. .... $1.09
36 inch Colored Border Curtain Scrims, splendid for use in summer cottages, reduced to yd. .... 6c	36 inch Percales, 12 1/2c values in light or dark colors, now reduced to per yd. .... 9 1/2c
10 pieces of 36 inch figured Silkoline, usual 12 1/2c and 15c values, now per yd. at .... 10c	10% Reduction on all Curtain Goods in the store. 25c value Hemstitched Pillow Cases, 45x36 in. now reduced to each .... 20c
Women's $1.25 value Corsets, made well and a big value at this low price, pr. .... $1.00

July Clearance Sale

Women's Everyday Corsets, sizes from 20 to 30 with two pair of hose supporters, now at pair .... 47c	Women's Lisle Gloves in white or black, all sizes, now reduced to pair .... 39c
Women's Summer Shirtwaists in white or colors, all sizes and values to $1.50, now to clear these quickly choice any at .... $1.00	Women's Georgette Crepe, Jap and Crepe de Chine Waists, all sizes and colors, values to $5.00, to close at each .... $2.48
Women's 25c value Black Gauze Hose, all sizes, at this sale now 2 pair for .... 25c	Women's Fibre Silk Hose in black, all sizes, now reduced to pair .... 25c
A big line of Children's fine grade Muslin Underwear, all different styles to choose from now reduced to garment each at 7c, 10c, 15c and .... 25c	Clark's Crochet Cottons, mostly all numbers in white or ecru, per ball at .... 9c
10 doz. Children's Middy Blouses, all ages in white or colors, values to 75c to close at .... 50c	20 doz. Women's White Lawn Vests, all sizes, values to $1.00, now reduced to each .... 49c
50 pieces fine qualities imported fancy Voiles, Rice Cloths, Seed Voiles, Marquisettes in neat stripes and plaids, values up to 40c per yard, grouped all at one price for this sale, now per yd. .... 25c

36 inch White Gaberdine for suits and sport skirts, an elegant quality marked for this sale at per yd. 25c and .... 55c	27 inch Dimity Checks and Nainsook Checks for children's Gimpes or underwear purposes 15c value, on sale, per yd. at .... 8 1/2c
36 inch Long Cloth, 18c value, in lengths from 2 to 10 yds., special per yd. .... 10 1/2c	36 inch 10c value unbleached Muslin, heavy thread and a bargain at the very low sale price, yd. .... 8 1/2c
Women's cotton ribbed sleeveless Vests all sizes, now each at .... 9c	Women's short sleeve and sleeveless cotton ribbed Vests in all sizes, a 19c value, in this sale now each at .... 15c
Women's high neck long sleeve shaped Vests in all sizes, a special grade offered in this sale, each at .... 23c	35c value women's cotton ribbed Union Suits in lace knee, or tight knee, all sizes, now marked per suit at .... 25c
Women's mercerized cotton ribbed Union Suits, all sizes, any style shown at the low price, suit .... 49c	25 dozen Children's knit Underwaists, all ages and a 25c value now marked at special price each .... 19c

July Clearance Sale

Children's Vests and Pants, all ages and a big value at this low price each at .... 9c	Children's Waist Union Suits with drop seat, all sizes, worth 35c regular, now for this sale, per suit at .... 25c
Men's $1.00 value Balbriggan Union Suits, ecru color, all sizes 36 to 44, very special, per suit at .... 75c	Boys' Blouses in colors or white, neat attractive patterns in all sizes, special at 23c and .... 47c
Women's Silk Windsor Ties, all colors of the 25c values now offered in this sale, each at .... 9c	15c value Taffeta Hair Ribbons, all colors, now on sale, yd. at .... 9c
7 and 8 inch all silk Morie Hair Ribbons, all the desired shades, sale per yd. at 15c, 19c and .... 23c	2000 yards St. Gall Embroideries in edges, insertions, flouncings, all overs, etc. The choice patterns and the values should appeal to you at these remarkably low sale prices, yd. at 10c, 15c, 50c, 19c, 25c and .... 50c
10c and 15c values in fine French Valenciennes Laces and insertions, wide or narrow effects to select from, pretty patterns and on sale at per yd. .... 5c

JULY CLEARANCE BARGAINS

1000 yards of fine cotton Cluny Laces, wide or narrow, now marked at per yd. .... 5c	Women's Kid Gloves in white, black or colors, all sizes and at special prices, $1.19, $1.48 and .... $1.69
Women's elbow length Silk Gloves in white or black, all sizes with double tips, special at pair .... 73c	Women's 25c value Gauze Hose in fast black, all sizes in this lot marked at this sale, pair 18c or 2 for .... 35c
Women's black Cotton Hose, all sizes, fast black, very special, pair .... 9c	Women's 18c value mercerized white cotton Hose, a special purchase enables us to offer you these during this sale at per pair .... 15c
Children's 15c value ribbed Hose in black in all sizes, at this sale, per pair .... 12 1/2c	25c value Men's Fibre Silk Hose, comes in colors of blue, brown, lavender, open and black, all sizes, now per pair at .... 21c

JULY CLEARANCE BARGAINS

Men's 75c value Madras Dress Shirts, neat, attractive patterns and a well made shirt, now each at .... 59c	Men's 50c value four-in-hand Silk Ties, new patterns and a bargain at this low price, .... 25c
Men's Socks in black or colors, a big 10c value in all sizes, now per pair 7c or 3 pairs for .... 20c	Men's heavy grade "Rockford" work socks at pair 9c or 3 pair for .... 23c
Men's mixed Socks in blue or grey, very special, pair at .... 5c	100 dozen men's large white Handkerchiefs, a big 5c value, while they last, each at .... 3c
Men's fast color Amoske, Chambray Shirts, soft collar, all sizes, each now at .... 43c	$1.00 value 26 inch Fibre Suit Cases in tan color, steel frame, made well and strong, marked at the low price each at .... 79c

JULY CLEARANCE BARGAINS

"Air Float" Talcum Powder, all odors, per tin 9c or 3 for .... 25c	Mennen's Talcum Powder, any odor, per tin now at tin .... 12 1/2c
Combination offer: 3 bars Palm Olive Soap 30c, or choice jar Palm Olive Cream or Palm Olive Shampoo, 50c, value 80c, now .... 44c	15c value 36 inch cotton Challies, just the fabric for comfort coverings in medium and dark colors, reduced for this in price to per yd. .... 10 1/2c
Queen Comforter challee coverings, all new 8c goods at this sale, per yd. .... 5c	31 in. Bed Ticking in blue and white stripe the 12 1/2c value now at this sale, per yd. .... 10c
28c value feather proof Bed Ticking in neat colored stripes, buy these now at the sale price, yd. .... 22c	$1.25 value large size Comforter Cotton Batton, full 3 pounds, just the size for a comforter special, this sale each at .... $1.05

JULY CLEARANCE BARGAINS

36 inch Poplins, all new, comes in about 20 different shades, marked at the low price for this sale, per yd. 75c and .... $1.25	36 inch Habuti Silk in flesh shade, suitable for underwear purpose, $1.00 value, now on sale, per yd. .... 73c
75c val. Dresden Silks in stripe or floral effects, light or dark colors, marked in this sale, per yd. .... 58c	36 inch all wool Storm Serges, 10 leading shades, marked special yard at for this sale .... 47c
36 inch Danish Cloth in cream or colors, usual 35c value, on sale at per yd. .... 25c	$1.25 value 52 inch all wool Storm Serges in black, brown, navy and wine, marked on sale, yd. at .... 95c
25 pieces black and white check Dress Goods in widths from 36 in. to 54 in., marked on sale per yd. at 18c, 25c, 35c, 50c and .... 98c

JULY CLEARANCE SALE

On this floor you will find the following goods greatly reduced for this big July Clearance Sale: Lace Curtains, Window Shades, Porch Shades, Portieres, Couch Covers, Pillows, Summer Blankets, and Quilts, Matting, Carpets, Rugs, Linoleums, Stair and Curtain Rods, Carpet Sweepers and Vacuum Cleaners.

27x54 inch Bath Room Rugs, regular $1.00 value, on sale at .... 69c	36x72 inch Olex Grass Rugs, regular $2.50 value, on sale at .... $1.89
36x72 inch Velvet Rugs, regular $4.00 value, on sale at .... $2.97	36x63 inch Axminster Rugs, regular $4.00 value, now on sale at .... $2.97
36x72 inch Velvet Rugs, regular $4.50 value, now on sale at .... $3.87	36x63 inch Wilton Velvet Rugs, regular $8.00 value, now on sale at .... $5.87
30x60 inch Wool Fluff Rugs, regular $2.75 value, on sale at .... $2.19	9x12 ft. Fibre Rugs, regular $10.00 value on sale at .... $8.50
9x12 ft. Olex Grass Rugs, regular $10.50 value, on sale at .... $8.50	9x12 ft. Tapestry Brussels Rug, regular $17.50 value, on sale at .... $14.75
9x12 ft. Body Brussels Rug, regular $32.50 value, on sale at .... $27.50	9x12 ft. Axminster Rug, regular $27.50 value on sale at .... $22.50
9x12 ft. Wilton Velvet Rugs, regular $45.00 value, on sale at .... $31.00	Straw Matting, regular 18c value, on sale at, yd. .... 12 1/2c

JULY CLEARANCE SALE

Women's Suits, Coats & Dresses, Etc. at July Clearance Prices

LAST CALL FOR WOMEN'S SUITS, COATS, DRESSES, WRAPS, ETC. Buy that suit or coat now and save more than half of the original price. Read every item and let us show you the goods for instance.

Women's Tailored Suits, surprising values, $1.98, $3.48 and .... $4.68	Women's Tailored Suits, $18.50 values, at .... $7.50
Women's Tailored Suits, $20.00 values, at .... $8.48	Women's Tailored Suits, $25 values, at .... $11.50
Women's Tailored Suits, $30 values, at .... $14.00	Women's Tailored Suits, $35 values, at .... $16.50
Refined stylish new model's Women's Coats at the following prices:
$9.00 values .... $3.50	$12.50 values .... $6.25
$15.00 values .... $7.50	$18.50 values .... $9.25
$25.00 values .... $12.50	$30.00 values .... $15.00

CHILDREN'S COATS

$4.50 values .... $2.25	$7.50 values .... $3.75
$9.00 values .... $4.50	$12.50 values .... $6.25

CHILDREN'S COLORED WASH DRESSES

50c values .... 25c	75c values .... 35c
90c values .... 50c	$1.25 values .... 75c

CHILDREN'S WHITE DRESSES

$1.25 value .... 75c	$2.00 value .... $1.25
$3.00 value .... $1.75	Ladies' House Dresses exceptional value, 48c, 89c, $1.00, $1.25 and .... $1.50

Ladies' Wash Dresses for afternoon and street wear. $2.25 value for $1.25, $3.50 value for $2.25, $5.00 value for .... $3.50

100 Ladies' Dresses in white and colored, formerly $25.00, July Clearing Sale price .... $1.98

All of our Silk and Party Dresses at a reduction of 25% to 50%.

Choice line of Women's Separate Skirts in wool, silk and mohair at a reduction of 25%.

White Wash Skirts and fancy stripe wash skirts especially priced for this sale at $1.25, $1.50, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $3.75.

Women's Wash Petticoats at 25c and 35c.

Women's Underskirts, black and colors, $2.00 value .... $1.18

JULY CLEARANCE SALE

Fibre Matting, regular 40c value, on sale at a yard .... 30c	Wool filled Ingrain Carpet, regular 55c value on sale at, a yard .... 45c
Tapestry Brussels Carpet, regular 85c a yard, on sale at, yd. .... 59c	Wilton Velvet Carpet, regular $1.75 a yd., on sale at, a yard .... $1.19
9x12 Congoleum Rugs in special at .... $8.50	8.4 Printed Linoleum, 60c value, on sale at, sq. yd. .... 45c
Inlaid Linoleums, $1.25 value, on sale at, sq. yd. .... 97c	Inlaid Linoleums, $1.75 value, on sale at, sq. yd. .... $1.47
White or Ecru Lace Curtains in special at, a pair .... 39c	White or Ecru Lace Curtains, regular $2.50 value, on sale at, a pair .... $1.97
White Curtains in extra fine net, regular $6.00 value, on sale at .... $4.87	Tapestry Portieres, regular $3.00 value, on sale at, a pair .... $2.37
Silk Portieres, regular $6.00 value, on sale at, a pair .... $4.87	Couch Covers, regular $1.25 value, on sale at, each .... 89c
Couch Covers, regular $3.00 value, on sale at, each .... $2.47	Imported Bamboo Porch Shades in all sizes, at about one-half price.
Big Reductions on all Curtain Rods, Window Shades, Stair Rods, Pillows, Carpet Sweepers and Vacuum Cleaners.

T. P. BURNS COMPANY
WE SAVE YOU DOLLARS AND CENTS.

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN.